Commence Task Of Finding Jobs For Unemployed

Federal Machinery Put Into Motion To Aid Serious Unemployed Situation

WINTER MONTHS
WILL BE TOUGH

Colonel Arthur Woods Is Made "Unemployed Administrator"

By PIERCE MILLER

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—With little prospect for immediate concrete steps by the Federal government to relieve the unemployment situation, machinery was put in motion today by the president's cabinet committee to lend what comfort it could, and to coordinate those agencies, state and industrial, which gave promise of ultimate remedy.

The big problem confronting the government was that of finding jobs for the jobless over the winter, with the hope that the depression, on which is placed the blame for the present crisis, will correct itself by spring.

Colonel Woods Active

Col. Arthur Woods of New York, the man who directed the job finding for war veterans, and later undertook to meet the unemployment situation in 1922, reached the capital today to take over similar work for Mr. Hoover. He was pressed into service during yesterday's cabinet session.

He conferred with the president and Secretary of Commerce, Laund, chairman of the president's unemployment committee. Col. Woods will act as "unemployment administrator," and the Laund committee will serve in an advisory capacity.

Woods' job will be to organize the employment campaign and seek the cooperation of state and local governments and industry, and welfare organizations to provide jobs for some three and a half million now out of work.

Three Million Idle
The figure is based on the census of last April which showed unemployment of two and a half million, to which has been added one million.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

There is a rough spot at the corner of East Washington street and Butler avenue that all motorists should be warned of—a place where the pavement was torn up in order that the Harmony tracks could be removed.

One of the coldest jobs next to feting ice cakes around, is washing the street lamps. Pa Newc noticed on Tuesday afternoon, that the lamps across the East Washington street bridge were receiving treatment.

Traffic is still partly blocked at the corner of Butler avenue and East Washington street, with materials for the building of the new Epworth church and the paving of Butler avenue. And by the way, the church is rising higher and higher. The front wall is being built into a peak and is nearing completion.

Pa Newc hears a number of local people say that they are about ready to store their automobiles for the winter. There are people who believe it more trouble than a convenience to weather snow storms, put on chains, alcohol in radiators, etc.

Will you donate something to the Jameson hospital on Fruit and Vegetable Donation days, October 31 and November 1? The Hospital Aid society is counting on you to help put this across.

Latest figures of the State Highway department show that there are more than a million and a half automobiles in the state of Pennsylvania.

WASHINGTON SILENT ON PENNSYLVANIA BATTLE

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—Pained silence on the one hand and a gingerly prepared statement of denial on the other has met the move of Gifford Pinchot, Republican gubernatorial candidate in Pennsylvania, in declaring President Hoover "desires the election of the whole Republican ticket" in the Keystone state.

The white house was mute. Privately, however, much was said, most of it to the effect the president could not lend himself to individual state campaigns.

Secretary of Labor James J. Davis, running for the senate on the same ticket with Pinchot, and quoted by the latter as his authority for his statement concerning Mr. Hoover's desires, after much consultation with party leaders issued a statement denying in effect he had ever told his running mate and such thing.

"I would have no business saying what the president would do," Davis said. "I did say the president needs the support of all who indorse his policies. I pointed out that the president could not inject himself into such matters, and I recalled that, when President Wilson did so in 1918 he had been criticized."

Mr. Hoover's attitude of silence recalled that in two other section campaigns the president was moved to make a personal indorsement. In the first instance, by letter, he recommended re-election of Rep. Carroll Reece in the first precinct of Tennessee. In the second instance, a statement was issued at the executive offices expressing satisfaction with the nomination of Dwight W. Morrow as Republican candidate for the senate in New Jersey.

Hundred Fifteen Attend
Opening Banquet At
The Castleton

Marking the opening of the two-day sessions of the sixth biennial board meeting of the Pennsylvania Federation of Temple Sisterhoods being held in this city, was the banquet at The Castleton on Tuesday evening, a brilliant supper conducted with the local Temple Israel Sisterhood acting as hostess.

Under the capable leadership of Mrs. Norman Ehrlich, president of the local Sisterhood, and Mrs. Marcus Feuchtwanger, chairman of arrangements, this affair was most successful.

Beautiful Scene.
The banquet room, dimly lighted, with the large oblong table extending across the entire side of the room, attractively decorated with silver and crystal bowls containing flowers in tones of yellow and white, marked the places of the celebrities. Covers were laid for 115 guests.

Greene foliage and tall yellow tapers blended in with this setting. Various small tables, perfectly arranged, and decorated in the same manner seated the other guests. Novelty favors, in the form of a miniature parrot, in all their colorful hues, marked each guest's place. Also unique packages neatly wrapped, and small silver trays concealed in envelopes, were found at their places as mementoes of the evening.

An elaborate menu was served, consisting of several courses, and between courses pep singing led by Saul Lavine of Pittsburgh to tunes of popular music, with Mrs. E. O. Fankhauser accompanying at the piano, added that touch of liveliness that always increases the pleasure of such affairs.

Wealthy Chicago Couples Robbed Of Valuable Gems

Four Gunman Stage Daring
Holdup Of Two Couples—
Loot Is $65,000

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—Guns flashed and women clad in evening clothes screamed as four gunmen held up two wealthy couples on Chicago's Gold Coast early today and robbed them of jewelry valued at $65,000.

The victims, returning in a taxicab from downtown where Mr. and Mrs. George E. Crandall and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph N. Gardner, Crandall is a retired vice president of Montgomery Ward and company, and Gardner is a wealthy broker.

Emerging from the cab at a fashionable apartment house on the Gold Coast the two couples were confronted by three bandits, all brandishing revolvers.

One gunman guarded the men while the other two forced the women back into the cab at the points of their revolvers.

"Give us your jewelry and you won't be killed," they commanded. Before the women could obey the robbers began pulling the rings from their fingers.

JEWISH PROBLEM
THEME OF ADDRESS

Marshalling an array of biblical examples which he brought to light in their relation to 20th century occurrences in every land where Semites dwell, and in an inherited problem, Dr. Samuel H. Goldenson, rabbi of Temple Rodef Shalom, Pittsburgh, told delegates of State Temple Sisterhoods at the banquet of the sixth biennial executive board meeting, Pennsylvania Federation of Temple Sisterhoods, in The Castleton Tuesday night, that "a problem which deals with spiritual differences can only be solved in a spiritual manner."

Rabbi Goldenson, called one of the foremost orators of reform Judaism in America today, addressed the delegates and state officers, among whom was Mrs. Saul Lavine, state president, on the "Jewish Problem."

He was introduced by Mrs. Marcus Feuchtwanger, general chairman of the two-day convention, who referred to the speaker as "a prophet in Israel."

Dr. Goldenson declared it was the adjective, not the substantive, of the "Jewish problem" that troubled him.

$500 Bequest To Local Institution

(International News Service)
OIL CITY, Pa., Oct. 22.—Large bequests to charitable organizations were made in the will of the late George N. Reed, one of the largest stockholders of the Oil Well Supply Company, filed today at the Franklin county courthouse.

The Almira Home at New Castle was bequeathed $500. The Reformed Presbyterian church at Pittsburgh was willed a like amount. The value of the estate was fixed at $1,773,487.56. Residue of the estate after several other charitable bequests was left to Reed's widow and two children.

Keystone Club Reward Offer Is Not Yet Paid

No check has been received by the county commissioners yet from the Keystone Automobile Club of Philadelphia for the $500 reward offered for the capture of the slayers of Corporal Brady Paul. The other reward money, $2700 in all is being held by the commissioners pending the arrival of the Keystone money.

As the commissioners wish to send Sheriff Charles H. Wright of Phoenix, Arizona, the total reward to divide among the men who captured Irene Schroeder and Glenn Dague.

Dr. B. G. Graham Superintendent At Pittsburgh

Former New Castle School
Man Elected Pittsburgh
School Head

BOARD ELECTION
OCCURS TUESDAY

Dr. Graham Served Schools
Here For Six Years,
Starting In 1920

Dr. Ben G. Graham, former superintendent of the New Castle Schools was elected to the superintendency of the Pittsburgh schools, on Tuesday, October 21, succeeding the late Dr. William N. Davidson. The election of Dr. Graham was not a complete surprise as since the death of his predecessor he has been acting superintendent and for two years prior to that was first associate superintendent.

His election is particularly pleasing to New Castle and Lawrence County as this is his native county. Dr. Graham is a graduate of the class of 1904 of Westminster College and later graduated from the University of Pittsburgh. In his early career as an educator he served in the Greensburg High Schools and immediately prior to coming to New Castle he was principal of a high school in Pittsburgh.

Here As Superintendent

In 1920 he was elected by the New Castle School Board as superintendent here and served until 1926. In his regime as superintendent here he built the Benjamin Franklin Junior High School, installed the junior high school system, installed the platoon system, and will always be remembered as the superintendent who was responsible for the building program which put the New Castle schools on a proper basis.

In 1926 he was asked to return to Pittsburgh as associate superintendent, replacing Dr. Charles R. Foster who had been elected president of the Indiana Normal School. Dr. Foster had replaced Dr. John A. H. Keith who was appointed State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Later, Dr. Graham was made first associate superintendent and acted as superintendent while Dr. Davidson was on an extended tour of Europe. Sometime after his return Dr. Davidson's health failed and Dr. Graham again took over the reins as superintendent. Since Dr. Davidson's death he has been acting as superintendent. The nomination of Dr. Graham as superintendent was a surprise to many.

Burton Tells Of Club Parasites

Former Head Of Rotary Club Speaks To Kiwanians At Noon

Thirteen species of service club parasites which sap the vitality of smooth-functioning civic organizations were described by Prof. Frank L. Burton, Benjamin Franklin junior high school principal and past president of the New Castle Rotary club, when he spoke on "A Parasite in the Service Club" before the Kiwanis club today.

Mr. Burton offered the following classifications, and spoke briefly on each:

Species 1: The fellow who holds a membership for what business and social prestige it will give him in the community.
Species 2: The fellow that attends only enough meetings to retain his membership.
Species 3: The fellow that has passed his stage of usefulness in his profession and in his community, but will not voluntarily resign.

Species 4: The fellow that stretches his classification to retain his membership.
Species 5: The fellow that regularly leaves the meeting as soon as the meeting is over, or before the program ends.

Species 6: The fellow that is always six months or a year behind with his dues.
Species 7: The fellow that always wants to use horseplay tactics to draw attention to himself, or to embarrass the other fellow.

Species 8: The fellow that consistently refuses to go along with projects that the club and community support.
Species 9: The fellow that

EARLY WINTER ALONG LAKE FRONT

Shifting winds bringing snow and cold from the northwest have caused scenes like this in most of the northern states from the Rockies to the eastern seaboard—winter weather after an abnormally warm autumn. These photos show one of the districts hardest hit, western New York, where the snow fell four feet on the level in towns and cities outside of Buffalo. Top photo shows a scene along the Hamburg-Buffalo road on Lake Erie, and below, a line of cars jammed tight in both directions waiting aid as the blizzard subsided.

Will Dedicate Athletic Field

Ceremonies To Take Place At Bessemer On Friday Afternoon

BRIEF ADDRESSES
ARE ON SCHEDULE

Bessemer High's new athletic field will be formally dedicated to the public on Friday afternoon of this week, with an elaborate program that will precede the Bessemer High-Shenango high grid battle. The dedication exercises will start at 2:30 o'clock. Bessemer will be greatly decorated for this event.

It has long been the dream of Bessemerites to have a new and modern up-to-date athletic field, one that would stand as a monument to Bessemer athletics, and after several years of hard work the dream has been realized. Today Bessemer has one of the finest athletic fields in this section of the state for Class B competition.

The field is directly back of the High school and is accessible to all sections of Bessemer. There is ample parking space for automobiles. There will be plenty of seats for everyone.

Program

The following program has been announced:

Selections by Bessemer High school band.
Speeches by the following:—
P. W. Griffin, president of the Bessemer school board.
Carl Montgomery, president of the Bessemer Booster Club.
Roy Wallis, member of Bessemer Borough Council.
J. H. Frederick, coach of Bessemer high.

Glenn Johnson, coach of Shenango high.
Carl Hoover, captain of the Shenango high team.
Charles Grist, captain of the Bessemer high team.

Dr. Clyde C. Green, superintendent of schools of New Castle.
Principal H. J. Colton, of Bessemer High in making announcement of the dedication plans today, said that in case of inclement weather that the exercises would be held in the new Bessemer High gym.

I have talked with a lot of those old Democratic congressmen that have served with him for years, and they all say he is one of the most able and fairest men that has ever been in the house. Why, I think Garner, the Democratic leader, would resign if he didn't have his old pal Nick there.
Let the Democrats make a lot of gains, but let's keep Nick. He is pretty near one of us.

Submarines Leave New London Base

First Step Toward Carrying Out
Of Naval Agreement
Starts Today

(International News Service)
NEW LONDON, Conn., Oct. 22.—The submarine tender Bushnell stood out of New London harbor today with five of her charges in company, and headed with them toward Philadelphia, as the first step in the naval disarmament program which also marks the passing of New London as a principal navy base. Following the Bushnell by some hours the tender Camden, flagship of the submarine control forces, shepherded four submarines and the rescue ship Chewink out of the harbor bound on the long voyage to Pearl Harbor in the Hawaiian Islands.

Gloom settled over the old port here as the vessels moved out toward the ocean. Their passing is looked upon as the greatest blow the town has known in modern times, for it meant the removal of 2,000 men, most of them with families living here, and the loss of the chief source of revenue for dozens of merchants.

In the course of time, the mine layers Oglala, Luce, and Lansdale, and the mine sweepers Lark and Quail also are to be removed permanently. The Oglala and Luce are in Boston and had orders to leave port today to move to Pearl Harbor, their future base.

Division Vets To Banquet In City

P. R. R. Association Chooses
November 29 As Annual Reunion Date

ALL CLAIM SCORE
OF YEARS' SERVICE

Veterans of at least 20 years service on the Erie and Ashtabula division of the Pennsylvania railroad will assemble in New Castle for their 10th annual banquet and reunion on Saturday, November 29. J. Middleton, president of the E. & A. Division Veterans' Association announced today.

The date was set last night when the organization's officers met in a general committee meeting to formulate tentative plans. The gathering of veterans marks one of the outstanding yearly events on the division's activity calendar.

President Middleton said the committee again chose the Carnegie auditorium as the place for the affair, the hall where last year's successful reunion was held. There will be a dinner at noon, following which the vets will enjoy a program to be given by professional entertainers.

Nearly 800 Belong.

Approximately 750 names are carried on the association's roll, and a large percentage of that number will come here for the reunion. Secretary A. E. Stahl will commence checking up on those planning to participate within the next few days.

Serving on the general committee with President Middleton and Secretary Stahl are C. M. Frost, vice president; Joseph P. Clark, chairman of the reception committee, and Louis C. Gleason, chairman of arrangements.

Ninety retired veterans of the division, honorary members of the association will be in attendance at the reunion as special guests of their fellow workers still in the service of the company. Other special guests will also be present.

To be a veteran on the local division an employee must have been in the service a score of years. Many of the veterans are rounding out far longer terms of service.

Collectors To Start In November

Louis McClung, treasurer for the city of New Castle stated today that 1930 taxes will be handed over to collectors, November 1 and failure of delinquents to pay will result in levies. The treasurer stated that taxes are flowing into the treasury almost normally.

Toll Is Growing As Rescue Work Makes Progress

Alsodorf, Germany, Mine Explosion, Worst In Nation's History

EIGHTY MEN ARE

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

ALSODORF, Germany, Oct. 22.—With a known death toll of 231 and the probability it would rise to a greater number before the day was over, the mysterious explosion which wrecked the Anna mine here was set down today as the worst mining disaster in German history.

After more than twenty-four hours of frantic digging in the shambles of the wrecked mine, rescue workers had removed a total of 170 bodies and ascertained that of the 80 men still entombed, at least 61 were known to be dead.

While squads of exhausted rescue workers labored in shifts to bring the charred and mangled bodies to the surface, rigorous investigation into the blast was under way. Early this afternoon investigators confessed themselves up against a blank wall.

Coal Gas Responsible

The original theory that the disaster had been caused by the explosion of dynamite in the subterranean depths of the mine was thrown out when investigators discovered all stores of the explosive intact and undisturbed. Experts familiar with the construction of the mine declared that a coal gas explosion was impossible.

This discovery upset previous explanations as to the cause of the disaster. The initial detonation, which occurred far below the surface, ignited a benzene storehouse adjoining the administration buildings near the mouth of the mine, demolishing the offices and causing 22 deaths above the surface.

Boy Is Killed By "Unloaded Rifle"

(International News Service)
SHARON, Oct. 22.—An "unloaded rifle" today took the life of Stephen Gully, 15, of Masury, O., near here when it exploded in the hands of a playmate and sent a bullet through the youth's heart.

John Sosarich, 14, owner of the weapon, Gully and several companions were playing with the gun near the victim's home. Gully handed the gun back to Sosarich after playing with it and the latter, ignorant of the fact that it was loaded, pulled the trigger.

The boy leaves his mother and three sisters.

Home Nursing Classes Will Be Inaugurated

New Castle Residents To Be Given Opportunity To Learn Care Of The Sick

Classes in Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick will be started in the near future under the auspices of the Lawrence County Chapter, American Red Cross, it was announced this morning by Miss Kathryn H. Hite, visiting nurse.

An opportunity will be given those who enroll to learn the principles of personal hygiene; how to plan a healthful home; how to handle, bathe, dress and feed babies and small children; safeguarding their health; how to make an ill member of your family comfortable; how to give a bed bath and change the bed linen; how to serve competently in common ailments and emergencies, any many other subjects.

These classes will be offered to adults and girls and boys, practical nurses being especially invited to enroll.

Each course, the standard, modified, or junior course, will lead to a certificate. These courses are 70 per cent practical instruction and will be given under the supervision of the Red Cross nurse, duly authorized as a Home Hygiene instructor.

Registration can now be made by calling 5084.

Pinchot Sticks To His Statement

Declares Hoover Sent Word He Desires G. O. P. Success In State

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Oct. 22.—Gifford Pinchot, campaigning vigorously for the governor's chair in the executive office at Harrisburg, has no intention of retracting his statement that President Hoover has sent word into Pennsylvania that he "stands for and desires the election of the whole Republican ticket."

Pinchot made that crystal clear today in a terse, succinct "yes" when asked if he stood by his declaration of Hoover support made by him yesterday in a speech at Washington, Pa., which brought prompt denials from the White House and from Secretary of Interior James J. Davis, Pinchot's running mate.

The unemotional "yes" was "I" that the comment or amplification, that Pinchot would make concerning his statement that President Hoover through a cabinet officer had expressed his support of the entire party ticket in the Keystone State.

Jenkins owned a large racing stable and was a large user of hay and feed. His feed dealer agreed to supply Jenkins with hay to be delivered at the stable at the rate of so many bales every month. A price was agreed upon per bale and Jenkins was to pay the price for every load so delivered.

The dealer began, and for some time Jenkins paid promptly. But he began to fall a little in arrears and at last the dealer called on him for payment. Jenkins tendered him a check for all that was due except for the current month. When the dealer protested Jenkins answered that he always kept one month back. The dealer admitted that it was so, but said he couldn't see the sense of that and said that unless Jenkins paid to date he would stop all deliveries. Jenkins refused to pay and the dealer stopped the deliveries. Jenkins waited a while and when no hay came he went to court.

Pa Newc notes that a lot of New Castle people are getting post cards with the inscription "Throw this in the waste paper basket too." Someone must have a lot of money to waste on a whim.

We See At A Glance:

That paint applied to different downtown buildings certainly has worked a remarkable change. That yesterday's work for two steeples perched high up on the spire of the First Christian church must have had a touch of thrill to it. They were repairing broken shingles, and all the while a brisk wind whistled about them.

That New Castle's direction signs for incoming motorists could not be in more conspicuous spots than they now are in. Frequently strangers have been seen driving by the public square—catching a passing glimpse of the guiding arrows and then speeding on. They're a real help.

The little boy with the red flannel suit, red flannel leggings and red flannel cap will probably never know that the little girl standing near him on Washington street, gazed steadily at him with adoring, worshipful eyes. Wonderful, wonderful you, the eyes said so plainly, but the little boy looked over her head unseeing.

November 11 is Armistice day—twelve years since that glorious day.

Pa Newc notices that the boxes of dead flowers have been removed from the East Washington street bridge.

Like a human fly, Carl Becker, New Castle steeplejack, can be seen this morning moored against the sides of the First Christian church steeple. Progress is being made in the rebuilding and redecoration program of the church.

lion normally unemployed because of seasonal idleness.

Officials admitted prospects of the government creating new jobs at once was slight, as congress must first cut the red tape entangling the Federal construction projects, and congress meets in December.

The president, however, will ask congress to remove many of the restrictions on appropriations and make them immediately available. Virtually the only figures available on the problem of absorbing the unemployed are those pertaining to public works. They are not up to date or classified for practical application to the present problem, inquiry disclosed.

Estimates Lacking

Department of commerce experts, who have been working on the unemployment situation for nearly a year, reported improvement in some industries, but a decline in others. There was nothing to show, however, how many job seekers could be cared for by state and local governments on public works, how many might be absorbed by industry, nor were figures available on what proportion of the idle might find employment in other than public works activities.

Thus far the white collar army has not entered into the calculations. Generally speaking, officials said, industry would have cared for the greater number of all classes, but they said if public works could be increased and speeded, the effect would be felt all along the line.

Brought on by Fear

Commerce department officials declared there had been no sharp drop in employment to bring about the present crisis, but rather a fear brought about by the approach of winter. With winter practically here, the situation has suddenly become acute, they said, with a smaller reserve of savings due to the depression.

These activities were said to be down with the resultant unemployment: automobile industry, residential building, textile, and iron and steel.

On the other hand governmental and industrial public works, including utilities and construction, were 30 per cent ahead of the 1930 program.

tion of Dr. Graham as superintendent was made by Dr. A. W. Lew of the Pittsburgh School Board and seconded by Mrs. Mary Crowley. He was unanimously elected and escorted into the board room by Mrs. Crowley and Mrs. F. D. Chalfant. His salary as superintendent will be $15,000.00 per year.

Well Merited Promotion

The election of Dr. Ben G. Graham as superintendent of the Pittsburgh schools places him among the front rank of educators in the United States. The Pittsburgh superintendent is really a more important position than the State Superintendent, and ranks with the superintendency of Philadelphia.

It is a promotion well merited by previous success in a subordinate position. As a teacher, a principal, and a superintendent he has proven himself an educator in step with the modern problems of education.

His selection as superintendent adds another graduate of Westminster College to a position of importance in Pittsburgh. At the present time Judge William W. McNauher, Judge Trimble and District Attorney Andrew Parks are a few of the Lawrence County college men who have achieved success there.

Dr. Graham's degree of Doctor of Laws was bestowed by his Alma Mater in 1925 as a recognition of his own success and the credit he had reflected upon his school.

STAR LORE NOTE THE COLORS OF THE STARS

By Arthur DeV. Carpenter

While all stars appear to the unaided eye as points of light, a careful observer discovers that they are not of the same color. Sirius radiates a white light; so does Vega. Most of the stars in Orion are bluish-white. White stars and the bluish-white are very hot. Rigel, a bluish-white star, sends us a heat that other stars are a close second, sending us 75 per cent as much as Rigel. Capella is a yellow star the same as is our sun. Arcturus is orange color; Antares is red; so is Betelgeuse. It is a good experience for the star gazer to gain familiarity with the colors of the stars.

DR. GOLDENSON GIVES ADDRESS

"To have a problem is one thing that is nothing, but to be a problem is a sad thing about the Jew," he said. He showed how leaders have groped for the solution of the question, "where did the problem originate?" and stated that in his opinion the origin was undoubtedly with Abraham, as told in the 12th chapter of the book of Genesis. He added:

"The problem began in the land of Ur with Abraham. If God had not said to Abraham: 'Go to distant lands and become a blessing' the problem would not remain today. If Abraham had stayed at home it would have been different. Because Abraham had been commissioned to 'start a new world'—not to come as an empire builder, but as a blessing—the problem has remained.

"Like Abraham, I see the whole Jewish problem foreshadowed in the life of Joseph. Because Joseph was a dreamer, his brethren 'brought their heads together.'"

The speaker pointed out that the Jewish problem was a "problem of supersensitiveness in which some people are misunderstood because they have something in their nature which is deep and strange."

The manner of solving the problem, the speaker showed, has been advanced by many. Some find that if the problem is to be differences then the differences should be discarded in order to "become like the rest."

Goldenson assailed advocates of assimilation in the following words: "You can't wake human groups and fuse them like you can chemicals. The very nature of living resists destruction."

The other solution of the problem as advanced by some, the state of living, the rabbi said, is not practical "for we also like to live in a role that is characteristic of us. We never want to substitute ourselves for another. Self respect resists above everything."

After retelling the futility of the stated solutions the rabbi said: "The Jewish problem rests upon those differences in human life. The Jewish problem is a spiritual problem. If Abraham and Jacob had been like the rest, if the children of Israel had not identified themselves there would never have been a Jewish problem."

The rabbi offered his solution of the problem by stating that it was for the individual Jew to know that he has inherited something precious—a heritage.

Rabbi Goldenson at the beginning of his address declared he spoke not as an orator, but as a teacher.

In the early part of his discourse he touched on Zionism and the latest crisis that has befallen the adherents of Weizmann, the Zionist leader. He declared that "one of the saddest phrases in which 'Jewish' is mentioned is in 'Jewish Palestine'."

"I feel for the ones who gave their hearts to it," he said.

and passageways were painfully cleared of the debris which choked the underground channels in the wake of the blast, officials of the local and government experts battled their way through the mine to investigate possible cause of the disaster.

Dynamite Intact

To their surprise they found the dynamite stores intact, and pending discovery of some further clues, the cause of the tragic blast must remain a mystery.

Early this morning, rescue workers cleared the way to the pit 800 feet below the surface where a check-up had shown at least 60 men were entombed. Some time later couriers sent to those keeping vigil at the surface brought word that 61 lifeless bodies had been counted in the subterranean death trap.

Meanwhile, 98 miners and employees of the administration offices were being treated in hospitals for serious injuries. A similar number were bruised or shocked by the blast, the total casualties rendering the disaster without parallel in this country. The worst previous mine explosion in Germany was at Neudorf, Silesia, four months ago, when 150 were killed and scores injured.

Verdict Is Taken Under Agreement

Mrs. Gertrude Wilson To Receive $1400 From Local Traction Company

Verdict by agreement was taken at court today in the case of Mrs. Gertrude Wilson against the New Castle Electric Street Railway. Under the terms of the agreement Mrs. Wilson is to receive $1,400 for injuries sustained by a fall from a street car at the intersection of South Mill street and Long avenue.

Mrs. Wilson boarded a car at Washington street to go to Long avenue. The car platform and steps were covered with ice. She fell while getting off, receiving severe injuries to her spine and also other injuries. An operation was performed in the Grove City hospital and she was laid up for some time. She claimed that her health had been permanently impaired.

ORIGINAL LETTER CARRIERS BANQUET

Tuesday evening at the Leslie Hotel, the three surviving members of the original group of five letter carriers, who inaugurated the free mail delivery service in this city back in 1887, with three special guests enjoyed the annual dinner event that has been held for four consecutive years since the fortieth anniversary of the inauguration of the service in this city.

The original carriers in attendance were W. S. Rice, George Dufford and Luke Egan. They had as their guests, A. R. Henry of Barberton, O., former resident of this city, who was mailing clerk in the New Castle post office when the delivery service started here, Edwin W. Crawford, postmaster at the present time, and H. K. Bell, Frank A. Schulz, vice president and treasurer of the Lawrence Savings and Trust company, who was money order clerk when the carrier service was started, is always a guest of this annual event but was unable to be present due to the fact that he is away on vacation.

A splendid course dinner was served at 6:30 o'clock. The dinner table had pretty appointments in keeping with the occasion, including fall flowers. Each of the group present wore a pink carnation.

Absent departed members of the original group, who started giving the people of this city free mail delivery service on October 1, 1887, were not forgotten and at either end of the table was the picture of Daniel Mooney and Douglas McIlvenny, deceased members of the group.

The dinner concluded, time passed swiftly as those present heard reminiscences of the early days in the mail delivery service of the city until at a late hour, the group disbanded.

Auxiliary Plans Party.

Members of the Daniel Leasure auxiliary met Tuesday evening in the Legion home and made preliminary plans for a Halloween masquerade party, which will be held in the Legion home October 31 with the Daniel Leasure camp members as associates.

The committee appointed to take charge of arrangements and plan with the men to make this a memorable event are Mrs. Martha Carr, chairman, Mrs. Mary Ray, Mrs. Elsie Lash and Mrs. Isabel Knowles.

GUESTS HONORED AT SIX O'CLOCK DINNER

Honoring Mrs. E. B. Carbaugh who is visiting at the home of Mrs. W. O. Williams on East Wallace avenue and Mrs. R. C. Fralick who is the house guest of Mrs. Clyde Perrine on Norwood avenue, Mrs. E. U. Snyder charmingly entertained members of the Tuesday Kensington yesterday evening. Her table was lovely in its amber glassware and fall flowers.

A twelve dinner featured the occasion, with the elaborate menu being served at 6 o'clock by the hostesses who had as their aides, the following, Mrs. J. Q. Roberts, Mrs. Daniel Kennedy, Mrs. W. O. Williams and her daughter, Miss Marjorie Snyder. The balance of the evening was turned over to informal pastime. At this time, Mrs. Snyder told of her trip to Alaska and showed a number of pictures taken on the journey.

On October 22, Mrs. W. O. Williams will entertain the ladies at a Halloween party in her home on East Wallace avenue at a 6 o'clock dinner. Husbands of the members will be special guests at this event.

FAREWELL GATHERING HONOR FOR GUEST

Members of the Betty Social Club entertained at a Halloween party on Tuesday evening in the church basement, with the social hours being pleasantly spent in playing various games and contests. Those winning prizes for their stunts were Betty Ellabarger, Lois Otto, Louise Lehman, Evelyn McMillan, G. W. Campbell and A. T. Jennings.

At a late hour, a most delectable lunch was served by Mrs. G. W. Campbell, Mrs. Fred Robson, Mrs. A. T. Jennings and Mrs. F. P. Thomas. Following the serving, the feature of the evening took place. On behalf of the club, the president, A. T. Jennings, presented in an original manner, a lovely linen dinner set to Mrs. F. P. Thomas who will leave the first of November to make her home in Emmet. She responded in a pleasing manner.

Silver Craft Club

Members of the Silver Craft Club were delightfully entertained Tuesday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd McClellan, Dewey avenue. The house was cleverly decorated in autumnal foliage and fall flowers.

Three tables of bridge were in play during the evening and two new members were admitted, Mr. and Mrs. Harper Montgomery. A delicious repast served by the hostess and Mrs. Homer Thompson, closed the evening, the appointments being carried out in Halloween suggestions.

November 4 Mr. and Mrs. Carl McCreary, Martin street, will entertain the members.

FEDERATION MEETS TUESDAY AFTERNOON

The Lawrence County Federation of Women's Club held their regular monthly meeting in the parlors of the Y. W. C. A. Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, when many matters of importance were brought up, and plans discussed.

Mrs. S. M. Matheny, president, presided. It was decided that an effort will be made throughout the city by the Federation to have all gasoline station owners plant shrubs around their buildings this coming year. Winners in the lawn improvement contest were announced who were: Minnie Mayer, Scott street; W. W. Gordon, Euclid avenue; Mrs. George Moore, New Castle R. D. 4, and Mrs. Wallace Wright, Hazelcroft avenue.

Mrs. Bella Taylor spoke on the voting machine and explained its operation, advantages etc., and strongly endorsed its adoption which motion was carried. An account of the State Convention held in Scranton of the Federation of Women Clubs was given in full by Mrs. E. W. Crawford, and later it was decided that an extra effort be made to promote more clubs, both in local and in rural districts and to have them join in the Federation. The Sorosis Club will have charge of the rural districts, encouraging the residents to organize clubs.

The next gathering which will occur on the third Tuesday of November, with the Educational Department in charge, and refreshments served by the hospitality committee.

The board meeting will convene at 11 o'clock in the morning lasting through the noon hour, and at 2:30 a program will be given.

Livingstone Circle Meets.

Miss Jean McClain, Waldo street, entertained members of the Livingstone Missionary society of the Central Christian church in her home Tuesday evening with 18 members and special guests present.

Mrs. I. Davis was in charge of the business meeting, when plans were made for an anniversary dinner to be given in November.

Following business, Edna and Ruth Strobel took charge and presented an interesting program. Mrs. Harry Redman and Mrs. I. Davis pleased with a duet and Mrs. Davis read the scripture lesson after which a splendid talk on missionary work in general was given by Mrs. Oscar Johnson, who pointed out how each member of the society could be a missionary in her own community.

Special guests included Mrs. Oscar Johnson, Misses Grace Johns and Mary Shergar.

To close the meeting Miss McClain, assisted by her mother, Mrs. C. McClain, and Mrs. Herman Richards, served a delicious lunch.

BUY NOW—AID PROSPERITY

PHILADELPHIA is inaugurating an intensive campaign to emphasize the "Buy Now" idea as one that will help to bring the country out of the "depression" and restore prosperity. Analyzing the situation, and the benefit of the movement in Philadelphia and elsewhere in the nation, the Inquirer of that city says:

Many practical suggestions have come from the Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce. Inauguration of a "Buy Now" campaign, backed by all the energy this influential business body can summon, is its latest plan to promote not only the welfare of this city and state, but of the people in general. It is on a crusade which should be and deserves to be far reaching.

There is plenty of money in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania and the nation. The president of the Chamber, Philip H. Gadsden, makes public some astonishing figures. In six months deposits in the member banks of the Federal Reserve have increased by $1,494,000,000. In seven months savings accounts have grown by $700,000,000. According to him 95 per cent of all workers have retained employment. What, then, is the matter? Lack of confidence, lack of courage, the close guarding of expenditures. He is right when he asserts that "prosperity is money in circulation," that "every dollar spent employs someone who passes that dollar along," that "inactive dollars are retarding business progress"; that "hesitancy to buy is keeping goods on dealers' shelves, factories on part-time schedules and thousands out of employment."

"Hesitancy to buy." Herein lies perhaps the greatest obstacle to a complete return to the prosperity that the country enjoyed a couple of years ago. Get the dollars moving. That is the idea which the Chamber of Commerce is broadcasting, for when they do get going the factories will return to full time and fill the counters of the stores.

And now read and ponder these few lines written by Mr. Gadsden:

"Small beginnings grow to huge proportions. Do you know that if every wage earner in America would 'Buy Now' to the extent of fifteen cents per day it would release enough capital to employ 1,000,000 unemployed at $6.25 per day wage? A mere fifteen cents a day would put $2,184,000,000 back into circulation per year. The difference between prosperity and hard times in this country is $1 per week per capita."

There is something to think about. No one is asked to squander. But "dollars wisely spent will set going the wheels of industry." So "Buy Now" while the buying is good. Prices in the stores are down. Merchants tell Mr. Gadsden that they are lower than they have been in seventeen years. If you are in need of something—anything—but it, you who have money or employment, for by so doing unemployment will be reduced to a minimum and all will be well. That is the argument presented to the people, and it is a sound one.

TESTING YOUR TEMPERAMENT

You have a temperament. Everybody has. Old-fashioned folk would call it your disposition. But science is following a more modern style. So you might as well get in line and acknowledge that you, too, are carrying a temperament concealed somewhere about your person.

Very well, then, how about getting acquainted with your temperament? It is the child of your moods and the grandchild of your emotions. Want to test it out? If you can stand living with yourself, do this for a month:

When you get up every morning, scowl at yourself in the mirror. At the end of the month, say psychologists, your facial may well resemble a sector of no man's land in rainy weather.

Then start smiling at what you see in the mirror on the thirty-first day. You will perk up wonderfully. Friends will marvel at the change that's come over you. And your digestion will be better.

But don't keep up the morning smile too persistently. It may degenerate into a simper. Having let your temperament go to both extremes, take control and regulate it. Let the balance hang just a trifle on the side of the smile, and you will be joyous without becoming chronically sanguine.

THE DISAPPEARING CENT

Is your family one of those in which, after the first baby came, every stray penny was to go into the baby bank? If so, you will agree with the treasury department in wondering what becomes of all the pennies. Every year some 80,000,000 of them are coined, and while a certain number keep in circulation and others return to the treasury in one form or another, most of them disappear.

It is wrong to speak of pennies in this country's coinage, treasury officials have always insisted, as the penny is a British coin, normally of twice the value of one of our cents. But the cent has ever been a penny to most people, and it is hard to educate them to say cent.

The cent is the barometer of business. It is interesting to note that during financial depression a large number accumulates in the treasury. Even a big storm or a strike will cut down the number of cents in circulation, for a penny-spending public is indoors, or else forced to save for a "rainy day." Bankers say it is a sign of prosperity when there are plenty of cents in circulation.

JUST A CONTRAST

Down in Pittsburgh the city council has just appropriated $100,000 for welfare agencies to distribute during the coming winter; for the purpose of feeding and keeping the poor of the city.

On the other hand, it is estimated that probably $200,000 will be "the gate" that will be paid by thousands to see the Pitt-Notre Dame football teams in action for an hour or so in the stadium at Pittsburgh, Saturday.

You reason it out.

Quickly, we forget. Ninety-two years old, the Spanish general Weyler, dies in Madrid. Ask any man under 40 "Who was Weyler?" He won't know.

But when the Spanish War was on, with Roosevelt climbing San Juan Hill, or a hill in the neighborhood, and Hobson sinking the Merrimack, everybody knew Gen. Weyler. We even called that mild old Spaniard "the butcher" in our patriotic war dance.

The illness of which Gen. Weyler died started in a fall from his horse on his ninety-second birthday. Few Americans are on horseback at 92.

The Italians are like the Spanish in vigorous old age.

Luigi Cornaro wrote to his archbishop at 94 that he still mounted his horse without assistance and "I had to live to be 90 to know that the world is beautiful."

The brother of the Japanese Emperor took his wife to the opera in Germany and obtained a "close up" on Western civilization.

The opera about colored people was called "The Rise and Fall of the City of Mahogany."

Members of a Fascist mob yelled "Hail Hitler," and "Germany awake." To make sure that Germany would awake they threw bombs, unpleasantly described in the Associated Press dispatch as "stink bombs."

They deserved the name and drove the Japanese Prince and his wife from the opera.

At the same time in pleasant Stuttgart, another mob closed another Negro play called "Shadows Over Harlem."

The play described "oppression and exploitation of Negroes in the United States."

Capt. Hawks, champion American pilot, on Sunday flew 70 miles in 17 minutes. Looking down on the congested highways, he calculated that by automobiling the trip would have taken four hours, dodging in and out, waiting for lights.

A speed better than four miles a minute is a long step toward solving the transportation problem.

It would mean crossing the ocean in about 12 hours. That will come in a year or two and Capt. Hawks may make the flight. He is our flying champion now.

The Model Husband
Some wives think they have model husbands and perhaps a few have them. Those who feel so blessed desire to make known the fact. Sometimes their statements are amusing to those who hear them. The so-called model husband may be far from filling that role. He may have been able to keep his wife from knowing where, how and when he has fallen short of her good opinion.

The bragging wife with such a husband is made ridiculous among her friends and associates. Comparatively few men meet the demands of a model husband.

Wives should not expect too near perfection from their life partners. To be a good average is about all that can be expected by those who realize the frailties of mankind.

So the wife who tries to prove her husband far superior to men in general is undertaking a big job and a big laugh goes around at her expense.

If you don't want to be the cause of a hidden snicker don't praise your husband so much, for most folk know he is not really above reproach in the sense you indicate and those who know his weaknesses are naturally amused.

Your husband does not think of himself as being near perfect; he knows he falls below that mark.

Symposium of Editorial Views By Newspapers of Nations on Important Subjects as Edited by Consolidated Press Association

Edmonds Called Vital Force In New South's Development

Death Of Editor Of Manufacturers' Record Removes Leader Who Created Appreciation Of Natural Resources And Industrial Opportunities

States of the Southern part of the country express earnest appreciation of the services of Richard H. Edmonds, founder and editor of the Manufacturers' Record of Baltimore, as one of the great builders of the South. He is credited with constructive work in the direction of industrial progress and the use of the natural resources of these States.

"Not only did he proclaim the South a land of opportunity, but he proved that it was," asserts the LITTLE ROCK ARKANSAS DEMOCRAT, with the conviction that "there was no phase of its development and progress in which he was not interested." The ANNISTON STAR states that "he spoke with authority through his paper and the Blue Book of Southern Progress," and that "he will be greatly missed by those who now are laboring to rebuild this section."

"Since early manhood," records the LEXINGTON LEADER, "his life had been devoted to southern development. While never of robust health, his energy was tremendous and he gave it all to his chosen work. His love for the South assumed almost a religious fervor. His knowledge of its resources and his unflinching efforts to direct the attention of the rest of the world to what the South possesses won for him the respect of business men everywhere. He was honored throughout the South, the nation and the world."

CHATEAUGOGA NEWS also recognizes in him "one of the most constructive and influential editorial supporters the New South has had," and it concludes that "an inveterate optimist he literally pushed the South forward by his unflinching spirit of progress and achievement."

"He was a citizen of the New South, not in the old," says the HOUSTON CHRONICLE, "and he helped this part of the nation fight adversity and win in some degree material wealth, but not at the expense of the ancient ideals and standard." Of his value in the sphere of material growth, that paper declares: "For many decades he zealously preached the doctrine that the South should and must become industrialized in order to win for itself a fair share of the wealth the country was producing. And so every bridge built below the Mason-Dixon line every highway constructed along the pleasant and lazy rivers of the South, every skyscraper erected in the rapidly growing metropolitan centers of Dixie became a source of great gratification to Richard H. Edmonds and a new story of importance in the Record."

"He was probably better informed about the South than any other persons," thinks the BIRMINGHAM NEWS, "and he never lost an opportunity to lay the facts before the American public. He was constantly giving effective publicity to the resources, the opportunities and the possibilities of this section. Happily, Mr. Edmonds lives to see his work bear fruit. The potentialities of the South are recognized everywhere, and Mr. Edmonds himself was in large measure responsible for that recognition. He knew that it held wonderful industrial opportunities, and for many years he proclaimed it to the world. He lived to see those opportunities utilized to a steadily increasing extent. It must have been gratifying indeed to him to witness the southward march of industry in recent years. It would be impossible to estimate the worth of all that Richard H. Edmonds did for the South. But we in the South know that we owe him deep gratitude, and we will not fail to honor his memory."

Col. Edmonds' paper is called by the HOUSTON POST-DISPATCH "perhaps the country's outstanding trade publication," and that paper continues: "He constantly and aggressively encouraged the development of Southern resources and the building up of Southern industry. No note of pessimism concerning the South ever found its way into his writings. He knew insight into business and industrial problems and conditions and his forward-looking spirit enabled him to be of great help to those who were fighting for progress in the South."

A writer of unusual ability, his opinions were valued by business leaders of the entire Nation. Colonel Edmonds' interest did not stop with the South's material welfare. He was an ardent supporter of prohibition as a means not only of promoting economic good, but the moral progress of the people."

"The marvelous expansion of the textile industry south of the Potomac," in the opinion of the OKLAHOMA CITY OKLAHOMAN "was largely due to the ceaseless labors of the Baltimore publisher." "Just how much profit he brought to the Southern States may never be known, but no one acquainted with his crusade for Southern development has any doubt that his services were of tremendous value." This Southwestern paper also pays the tribute: "Other voices of inspirational power have come from the south that was and is."

There was the voice of Lamar lifted at the bier of a fallen Sumner pleading for justice and sectional reconciliation. There was voice of Grady sounding the note of a more genial faith and a broader optimism and 'literally loving a nation into peace.' Then came the commanding voice of Edmonds compelling a world to take notice of the untried resources and untold possibilities of a section once wasted by the scourge of war and long misunderstood by an unenlightened people."

Lauding his "abounding faith in the material resources of the country as the foundation of a great superstructure of social and spiritual life," the ASHEVILLE TIMES finds in his "enthusiastic faith in the South" one of "the potent agencies that brought about an economic revolution in the Southeastern States," and continues: "To complete the full picture of the man, it must be remembered that he was a determined and sometimes bitter political opponent of many of the cherished ideas and ideals of the South. He was an outspoken foe of most of Woodrow Wilson's program, both at home and abroad. He fought the League of Nations when that was an issue. He preached sky-high tariff. He charged the Federal Reserve system with virtually full responsibility for the post-war deflation."

"He was a high-minded, devoted, and intensely serious advocate and crusader," says the CHARLESTON EVENING POST. "He gave himself without reserve to whatever cause he espoused, and it mattered nothing to him how unpopular it might be, if he thought it was right. He made many mistakes, as all such ardent spirits are certain to do, but there was never any doubt as to where he stood nor any stint to his contention. Much that has been accomplished in this section is due to his preaching and exposition and demonstration, and he deserves to be held in grateful memory."

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

"TSK TSK"

A new form of life called the "tsker," which is believed to be a distant relative of the "kibitzer," has been discovered.

While his domesticated relative, the "kibitzer" is to be found in the stuffy atmosphere of pinochle games, this friend in human form makes his home in the great outdoors and can be found perched on the railings surrounding Tom Thumb golf courses. He remains absolutely silent until a player misses a putt. Then he chirps: "tsk, tsk." This is followed by advice on how the hole should have been played.

Proprietors of these miniature courses are planning protection for their patrons from these pests, as people have been known to play "tsker" instead of the ball.

Soon there will be a National Tom Thumb Golf Association with Rules, just as stringent as the "Royal and Ancient." Then there will perhaps be a new champion winning all the "Amateurs" and "Opens."

Miss Beulah Magruder, deaconess of the church, led the devotional period and Miss Ida Kahlo, national field secretary of the Woman's Home Missionary society, gave a most interesting address on the work of the Home Missionary society.

At the business session the auxiliary accepted their budget of $600 for the year and the book review on a chapter from "Trailing the Conquistadors" was given by Mrs. Victor Hoyer.

Rebecca Garvin pleased with a solo, being accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Harry Gormley. Two new members, Mrs. J. H. Hartland and Mrs. Edgar McKee were enrolled, and Miss Jessie Glenn was a special guest.

A committee was appointed to pack the Christmas box, Neva Moore and Martha Bigley being selected for this.

Hallowe'en decorations used throughout the house were carried out in the appointments when a dainty lunch was served by the hostess and her committee. Ellen Wood, Margaret George, Mrs. Jennie Cunningham, Mrs. K. B. Norris, Margaret Garvin, Mary Bigley and Mrs. F. F. Grace.

Mrs. Gladys Rosenthal, who is in charge of the ingathering of fruits and canned goods for the auxiliary was pleased to report that 60 articles of preserves, jellies and various kinds of canned goods had been collected at this meeting, to be added to the collection of the Jameson Memorial hospital when the ingathering takes place October 31 and November 1.

Ghost Party.

The W. C. B. class of the Wesleyan M. E. church enjoyed their annual Hallowe'en party Tuesday evening, which was in the form of a ghost party at the home of Mrs. W. H. Patterson, West Washington street.

The house was tastefully decorated in keeping with the party and the guests all approached dressed in sheets and pillow slips, forming a gruesome sight as the lights were lowered throughout the rooms.

Following the guessing contest, when the members were identified, an evening of social good time was thoroughly enjoyed. The pumpkin contest was won by Mrs. Jack Wyrle. Special guests were Mrs. Mollie Patterson, Mrs. Reed, Mrs. Carpenter, Mrs. O'Laughlin, Mrs. Morris Cox, Mrs. Jack Grille, Mrs. Jack Wyrle with Mrs. Double of Monongahela City and Mrs. Harry Patterson and children Billy and Jean of Butler from out of town.

A delicious Hallowe'en time lunch was served by Mrs. Bacon, Mrs. Britton and Mrs. Perkins. With November 12 selected as the date of the next meeting, the evening was brought to a close.

MOTHER'S CIRCLE ENJOYS MASQUERADE

An interesting event of Tuesday evening was the Hallowe'en party of the Mothers' Circle of the First Methodist church, which was held at the home of Mrs. Frank McArthur, Winslow avenue. The house was attractive with yellow and black decorations, the spirit of Hallowe'en being carried out in all appointments in a clever manner.

Chat, music and games were pleasing diversions, with the prizes going to Mrs. J. C. Lechner, Mrs. Smith Sankley, Mrs. Charles Leyton and Pearl Shannon in the different contests.

A delicious lunch brought the evening to a close, being served by the social committee, Mrs. J. B. McIvor in charge.

SISTERHOOD PLANS HALLOWE'EN PARTY

The Sisterhood of the Beth Shalom congregation are furthering their plans for a Hallowe'en party which they will give in the Beth Shalom center Thursday, Oct. 30, at eight p. m.

Hostesses for the event will include Mrs. David Shapiro, Mrs. Kaplan, Mrs. Wampum, Mrs. H. Abowitz and Mrs. M. Herskowitz.

Club Has Party

The Chicago Pageant club held the second of a series of parties Tuesday evening in the Woodman hall with Mrs. Pearl Cook, and her committee, Mrs. Ira Campbell, Mrs. William Andrews, Mrs. Robert Clark, Mrs. William Clappie, Mrs. O. G. Crooks and Mrs. L. Glitch in charge.

At the close of play it was found the 500 high scores were held by Mrs. Lila Budy, Mrs. Tillie Remley, Glenn Fox and George Shook and they were awarded prizes. The beano prizes were won by Mrs. Gertie Morrison and Mrs. W. H. Fox.

A dainty lunch closed the evening and the third party of the series will be held in the I. O. O. F. building November 14 with Mrs. Ethel Thomas and her committee in charge.

Masquerade Party

Mrs. Harry Hildebrand and Mrs. George Mannick entertained in a delightful manner Tuesday evening in their home, South Walnut street, when they were hostesses to a group of friends at a masquerade party.

The guests arrived in all kinds of funny, clever and grotesque costumes and the early part of the evening was given over to guessing the identity of the persons, and prizes were awarded Mrs. William Glitch and Joe Delp for the best costumes.

After all had been identified card tables were brought out and 500 was played for several hours, with prizes for high score being presented Mrs. Grace McCracken and Albert Ramsey at the conclusion of play. Clever Hallowe'en decorations were used throughout the house and they were further carried out in appointments when the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Norman Keeler, served lunch to Mr. and Mrs. Albert Ramsey, Mr. and Mrs. William Glitch, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Keeler and daughter Mary, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Delp, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Kade, Mr. and Mrs. William Shell, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Kildoo and son Junior, Virginia Porter, Harold Livermore, Mrs. Florence McConahay, A. Knight, Mr. and Mrs. George Hardington, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hildebrand and Mr. and Mrs. George Mannick and daughter, Georgine Mae.

Nous-A-Mon Meeting

The regular meeting of the Nous-A-Mon girls was held Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Adria Woods, West Falls street with Mrs. Bernetta Milkey and Georgia Mayers as joint hostesses.

At the business session it was planned to have a tureen dinner at the home of Mrs. Ed. McClintock, 720 County Line street, Wednesday, October 29, at 6:30. A dance at the "Willows" for members and friends was also planned for Tuesday, November 4 and the committee appointed to make arrangements includes Mrs. Flossie Wilson, Mrs. Luella McDevitt, Anna Patterson and Mrs. Bernetta Milkey.

A rummage sale November 1 will be in charge of Mrs. Adria Woods, Miss Jessie Harper and Mrs. Ella Knowling.

At the close of business card tables were set up and 500 filled in the remaining hours with Mrs. Luella McDevitt and Mrs. Jessie Harris winning the prizes for high score. The tables were then appointed cleverly in Hallowe'en suggestions and a dainty repast served by the hostess and committee, assisted by Gale Harkins. Mrs. Mary Black of Toledo was an out-of-town guest.

November 18 the club will meet with Anna Patterson, 726 Butler avenue with Mrs. Luella McDevitt as joint hostess.

Karmus Entertained.

Seventeen members of the Karmus club, including several guests from out of town, were delightfully entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Ray D. Rhodes in their home at 218 Summer avenue last night. Cards and music as the club's name implies were the chief diversions.

Four tables of bridge were in play and high score prizes were won by Mrs. George Witherstine and G. Wilfred Thomas. The guests also surprised Mr. and Mrs. Rhodes later in the evening with a housewarming gift.

Tasty refreshments were served by Mrs. Rhodes, assisted by several members.

Class Dinner.

Members of the Married People's class of the Third United Presbyterian church held a tureen dinner in the dining room of the church Tuesday evening, with Hallowe'en colors being carried out in the flowers used as a centerpiece and the appointments of the dinner table.

Following dinner an entertaining program was carried out with Dabbert and Leland Denniston, Julia Sidney and Jean Wimer taking part; Jane Bryan and Mary Jean Anderson pleased with some readings and there was group singing. Mrs. J. N. Anderson and Mrs. R. P. Hamilton were in charge of arrangements.

Will Have Masque Party.

The service Star Legion will have a masquerade party Thursday evening at 7:30 in the Legion home at which time the committee have planned for an interesting program of games and the evening will be brought to a close with refreshments.

Club Postponed

Members of the W. I. T. Y. Club will hold their next meeting at the home of Mrs. Cecil Logan, Brooklyn avenue, November 4, the meeting planned for this week having been postponed.

Mizpah Masquerade.

The Mizpah society of the First Presbyterian church will hold a masquerade party Tuesday, October 28, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mayo Porter, 147 East Wallace avenue.

Post Graduates to Dine.

Thursday evening at 6:30 the Post Graduate class of the First Methodist church will have dinner in the dining room of the church.

GIRL SCOUTS

GIRL SCOUT WEEK

Week of October 27 is National Girl Scout week, in recognition of the Birthday of the founder of the organization, Mrs. Juliette Lowe. Mrs. Lowe died four years ago after devoting much of her later years in Girl Scout work.

Miss Nance Pugh, city director, is asking each troop to attend church in a body. Sunday and is suggesting that the members of the city troops devote much of their time this week in helping around the homes.

City's Only Fire Life Net

Never Used Since Purchase

Folded in half, covered with a shield of black canvas, the fire department's canvas-springs life net is attached to truck A of company 1 from central station. Periodically the circular net, which is nine feet in diameter, is detached, cleaned and then fastened again to the right side of A.

But the cleaning operation is not followed regularly because the particular piece of fire equipment is in constant use. The truth firemen say, is that the net on the big American LaFrance ladder truck has not been used since its purchase about nine years ago.

When truck A was bought in 1918 from the American LaFrance Fire Engine company of Elmira, now the American LaFrance Foamite corporation, the life net was not included in the purchase.

A few years ago a stubborn blaze which broke out in the city proved that a life net was needed here, and it was purchased.

But, firemen say, it has not been used one.

ADOPT UNIQUE PLAN TO RAISE MISSION FUND

SUPT. B. J. WATKINS AND MISSION WORKERS WITH THEIR CANS READY FOR DISTRIBUTION

The board of directors and friends of the Rescue Mission have adopted a unique method of collecting the loose change which may be lurking in the dark recesses of men's trousers. They are proceeding upon the well established policy, "Take care of the dimes and the dollars will take care of themselves." The women of our churches have already proven this method of raising money with their mite boxes in missionary societies, and The Salvation Army has proven it with their small change collections upon the street corners.

This campaign is just a little different. It is a tin can campaign. Through the generosity of B. H. Kannenberg, Superintendent of The American Can Company, five thousand tin cans, conveniently slotted, have been donated for this purpose. These cans are to be distributed among friends of the institution who, in turn, are exhorted to put money in the can.

"These cans are appropriately labeled, 'Money in the can, to help your fellow-man.' The cans will be collected upon the day after Thanksgiving, the idea being that

Adjutant General Beary To Make Inspection Here

Major General Frank D. Beary, adjutant general of Pennsylvania, will be in New Castle on November 13 for the banquet and military inspection of Troop F, local unit of the state National Guard, it was announced from the army today.

The visit of the military aide to the governor holds special significance at this time when sponsors of the troop here are planning for a completed outfit that will rank high among other guard units of the state. Beary has visited New Castle in the past.

Major Samuel B. Wolf, commander of the second squadron, and adjutant general of the 103rd cavalry, have also signified their intention of being present at the banquet and inspection.

Troop F officers are awaiting word from Brigadier General Edward C. Shannon, commander of the 52nd cavalry brigade, and Colonel Arthur C. Colahan, commander of the 103rd cavalry.

This evening a committee of arrangements for the forthcoming event will be named by Captain Harvey G. Bintrm, commander of Troop F.

Pennsy Railroad Station Agent Is Robbed By Bandits

Wilkesburg Station Agent Relieved Of $470 In Cash

(International News Service)
WILKESBURG, Pa., Oct. 22.—Police today were searching for a lone armed bandit who late last night held up the ticket agent in the Pennsylvania railroad station here and escaped with $470, most of which was in cash.

G. E. Shoemaker, 28, the victim, told police the man entered the station and said:

"Hand over the money and be quick about it."

Shoemaker complied and gave the robber all the cash in the money drawer.

Several persons in the station were unaware that a holdup was in progress.

Infantile Paralysis Situation Improves

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—Officials of the U. S. Public Health Service here are now hopeful that the threatened epidemic of infantile paralysis will be averted.

Reports from all the States except New York and New Hampshire for the week ending October 11 total only 500 cases, a drop of 147 since the week before. While no conclusion can be drawn until the New York and New Hampshire reports are in, it seems that the peak has been reached in the present outbreak and that no more marked increase will occur.

Only a few States reported increase. The high figures for the last week were as follows: Ohio 56; Kansas, 57; Massachusetts, 53; California, 57; Illinois, 27; Missouri 27; South Dakota, 24; and Maine, 16. Of these Kansas and California represented decreases over the previous week's reports.

Leper Asylum Subject Lecture

Rev. Harry Waggoner and wife, of the Pentecostal Leper Asylum, in India, will speak at 10:45 a. m., Sunday, October 26, in the auditorium of the Y. W. C. A. Rev. Waggoner will give an illustrated lecture in the evening at 7:30.

These lectures promise to be of great interest and undoubtedly a large number of local people will attend.

The United States consumes 75,000,000 pounds of imported cheese each year.

SEWER PIPES WILL BE LAID

Piles of large sewer pipes await the laying at the corner of East Washington street and Butler avenue. The pipes will be laid across the street, where the Harmony tracks previously crossed, and down the hill to the west, where the city plans to make a street connecting East Washington street with South Mill street.

THE CHAUFFEUR gives his reasons for sticking to FREEDOM

"DRIVING a car for a living, I ought to know good gas and oil. I like Freedom best. Freedom Ethyl gives the peppy, quiet, knock-free motor my passengers want. And Freedom Perfect Oil, made from 100% Pennsylvania crude, keeps repair bills way down, another important reason for my boss thinking I'm a pretty good chauffeur.

"Even though it isn't my money, I like to buy from these independent Freedom Stations, too, for I know their profits stay right here at home. Oil and gas that you can't beat and profits for our local dealers.... good reasons why I always stick to Freedom."

PRESCRIPTION for Constipation tested by 47 YEARS' PRACTICE

THERE'S one way to help the bowels that is safe, and sure. It empties them of all the poisonous waste without doing any harm. Its action is thorough but so gentle that it never causes the least discomfort.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin always does the work, and it leaves you feeling fine. You can take it freely, reducing the amount as the bowels grow stronger.

If you feel sluggish, can't eat, have dull headaches, feel tired, weak and run-down, this famous doctor's prescription will help get rid of the waste that is probably clogging your system. If the children have coated tongue or bad breath; if they seem bilious, fretful, upset, give them a little Syrup Pepsin, too. It tastes so good they'll like it. It can't hurt them. Its gentle aid is ideal for women.

GATHER AT SHELBY
Eleven scouts, members of Kiwanis Troop 13 of Ellwood City met with Scoutmaster Nickum recently for their regular meeting. One boy attended in uniform. Two visitors were present. Patrol meetings were held after the regular session at different scouts' homes. Scribe, EDWARD VINROE

TROOP ENJOYS HIKE
An instructive and interesting hike was taken by seven members of St. Paul's Lutheran Church Troop 21 the other day. The route led north of the city and back by a different road. Featuring were a football game and instructions in firebuilding and second and first class cooking. Scribe, JOHN STUMP

CONTEST LEADERS MEET
Wampum Troop 1, leaders of the Lawrence county troop efficiency contest, met with 32 boys in attendance the other day. Scoutmaster Earle K. Herbert was in charge. A circle compass game was played and instructions were given in signaling, compass and first aid. Patrol meetings followed as usual. Applications for membership in the troop were filed by Glenn Harper and Ralph Prentice.

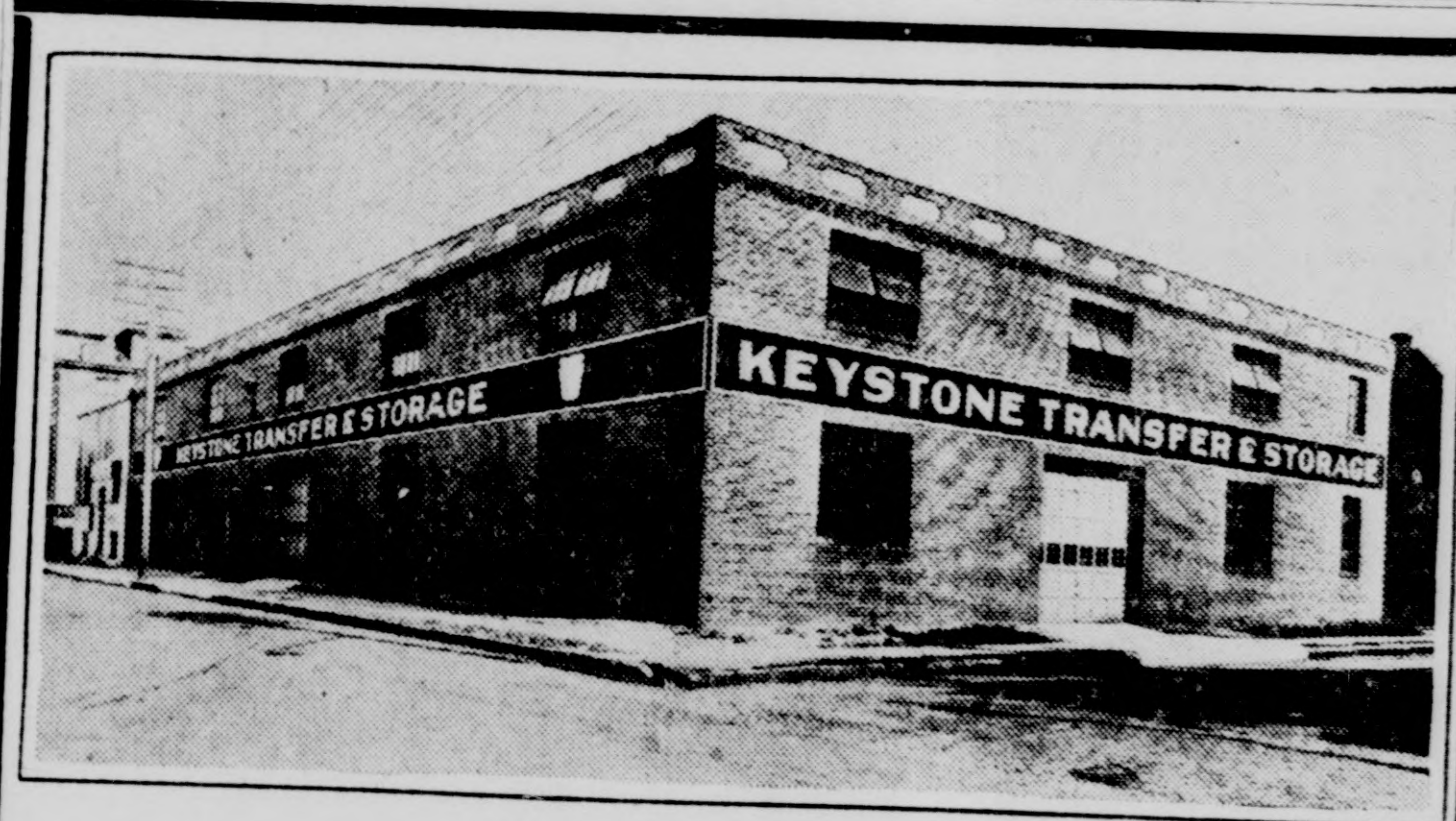

HALF-MILLION SCOUTS
From the New York national office of the Boy Scouts comes word that on October 1 a total of 605,456 Boy Scouts were registered on national office records, representing 27,391 different troops. In the one Scout organization, a part of the Boy Scouts, and additional 4,540 were enrolled. Scouters registered numbered 227,118.

Of interest was the statement that between 1910 and 1929 some 2,638 merit badges, or about two badges to every three scouts, were awarded by courts of honor the county over. The world's largest thermometer is on a tower of the German Museum at Munich.

Plea Of Father Who Killed Son Is Turned Down

Pardon Board Refuses To Hear
Appeal—Only Five Years Served

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Oct. 22.—Five years in prison cannot be considered sufficient punishment for a father who killed his own son, members of the State Board of Pardons today asserted in refusing to hear details of a pardon plea for Albert J. Tilles, Allegheny county.

Tilles was sentenced in 1925 to life imprisonment after conviction for first degree murder.

In response to allegations of Tilles' counsel that he was a "religious fanatic" Lieutenant Governor Arthur H. James contended that he was a "moral pervert" and that the case was "one of the most gruesome" he had known to come before the board.

The shooting of the son followed his threat to tell of improper relations which had existed between he and his father for a number of years.

In the case of Harry Frank, Allegheny county, the board refused to admit the plea of a "wife and seven children" who needed his support.

Sun Oil Plant At Marcus Hook Has Explosion

(BULLETIN)

(International News Service)
MARCUS HOOK, Pa., Oct. 22.—The entire city was rocked and windows shattered in a score of homes today when a terrific blast occurred in the Sun Oil company plant near here.

No one was reported injured. Numerous windows were broken, including every window in the church of the Immaculate Conception at 21st and Green streets.

The blast tore off the top of a 90-foot bubble tower at the oil company's No. 7 plant. Fire followed in the wake of the detonation. Thousands of gallons of oil and gasoline stored in the huge tanks were consumed by flames.

Officials of the firm were reluctant to discuss the blast. No one was injured at the plant, it was said. The damage was reported as "considerable." No estimate of the damage was available.

Mine Worker Chief Says He Is For Pinchot

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 22.—A last minute development featured the state political situation which resembles a rapidly changing kaleidoscope. District President P. T. Fagan of the United Mine Workers reiterated his intention of supporting Pinchot.

Fagan had been reported as supporting Hemphill because of the latter's stand on the abolition of the coal and iron police.

"I am against Hemphill because of the utility interests he represents," Fagan told International News Service.

Cases On Trial At Court Today

The case of Herman Hemple against Robert Hemple was taken up for trial before Judge Chambers at court this morning. The case is an action in ejectment in which plaintiff is trying to secure possession of land in the Eighth ward, over which there is a dispute.

The case of Charles G. Moore, executor of Sebastian Conti against the New Castle Lime and Stone company is still on trial before Judge Hildebrand. In this case plaintiff is seeking to recover damages for dust blown from defendant's limestone crusher on land of Conti.

BRILLIANT BANQUET MARKS OPENING OF SISTERHOOD SESSIONS

toastmistress, in her usual charming way, introduced each speaker in a most gracious manner, and at the conclusion of their messages, she acknowledged their kind words, and expressed in a very original composition fitting to each, in behalf of the Sisterhood, a brief speech of appreciation.

MRS. SAUL LAVINE
State President of Federation of Temple Sisterhoods.

Due to Dr. Samuel H. Goldenson of Pittsburgh, who was the main speaker of the evening, having to make train connections, he was introduced first on the program. Dr. Goldenson, who is an excellent speaker, and one of distinction, delivered in a forceful and pleasing manner a speech that will long live in the hearts of the women of the Sisterhoods and their guests. (A resume of the address is given elsewhere in this issue.)

Address of Welcome.

Mrs. Norman Ehrlich was the next speaker introduced, who delivered the speech of welcome in a witty manner, at the same time sincere. She included that she thought their Sisterhood had real nerve, undertaking such a large and an important meeting into their hands, their organization being only three years old. But since all was going so nicely, and everyone doing their part, it made her and all those concerned most happy to have such a large gathering. She challenged Minnie Wild of Erie in a statement she made at the convention banquet held there a year ago, that was most amusing. She concluded her talk with the boast that the New Castle Sisterhood had Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Feuchtwanger to their credit, and that her message was "welcome strangers" that the Temple Israel Sisterhood was at their every command.

State President.
Mrs. Saul Lavine, of Pittsburgh, and President of the Pennsylvania Federation of Temple Sisterhoods, upon her introduction, responded in an excellent manner, giving her message. She said that among the many problems that are to be solved in their lives, they are trying to stand for the spiritual things of life as a Sisterhood, and make themselves contented with the life led in their own cities. But this has been broadened to a great extent through the Federation, bringing into contact each other, and thus giving new courage and the inspiration to go on to unlimited lengths.

Miss Ruth Drescher accompanied by Mrs. E. O. Fankhauser who so charmingly sang the "Song of Welcome" at the beginning of the program, followed with two songs, entitled "Trees" and "Ah, Love, What A Day" that were enthusiastically received.

Another intensely interesting message was that given by Mrs. Ferdinand Dilshelm of Philadelphia, Honorary State President, who stressed that harmony and peace be taught to every individual, thus creating a more peaceful world in every respect. She dwelt on the fact that each must learn to overlook the petty things that are bound to arise in ones life, building a stronger character with which to face more important matters that lie before each and everyone. Another phase that was explained in her well chosen words was that the background of the Federation was to have Religious-Spiritual and Humanistic-ideals, and practice them.

As an added surprise of the evening, the toastmistress asked that a few words be spoken by the President of Temple Israel, Marcus Feuchtwanger. He emphasized the fact that the local Sisterhood had been a great boom to the Sisterhood's in many ways. It has been a progressive organization and most successful in all its undertakings.

Mrs. Feuchtwanger asked the various officers to rise when called, for recognition; namely, the state officers, Mrs. Saul Lavine, Pittsburgh Pennsylvania state president; Mrs. Ferdinand Dilshelm, Honorary

MRS. MARCUS FEUCHTWANGER
Arrangements Chairman.

President and Mother; Mrs. Max Brumbarer, York, Pa. first vice-president; Mrs. Joseph Schmidt, Allentown, recording secretary and Mrs. Chester Bondman, Pittsburgh, Corresponding secretary; Temple Israel Sisterhood officers; Mrs. Norman Ehrlich, president; Mrs. J. P. Perelman, past president and honorary vice-president; Mrs. Moe Rizka, Ladies' sang by the entire group, chronicled the close of this remarkable and successful meeting.

During the evening, Mrs. Feuchtwanger read a message sent by Helen Strauss, executive secretary of the National Federation of Council of Jewish Women of Cincinnati, O. and another from Mrs. Alfred Rosenfeld, who is the President of the State Conference of National Council of Jewish Women, now in progress at The Schenley in Pittsburgh.

During the earlier part of the evening, Mrs. Norman Ehrlich was presented with a beautiful corsage in behalf of the Sisterhood, as a token of affection in which she is held. Also, Miss Ruth Drescher, who is the possessor of a lovely soprano voice, and Mrs. E. O. Fankhauser, a talented pianist, were the recipients of attractive remembrances as a token of appreciation for the pleasure they added to the occasion.

Wednesday's sessions begin with a business meeting at 9:30 o'clock a. m. in the ballroom of The Castleton, followed by a luncheon at 12:30 after which the business matters will again be resumed, and at 3:30 o'clock, an informal reception and tea will be held in the Temple Israel Assembly rooms. Mrs. Saul Lavine, President of the Pennsylvania State Federation of Sisterhoods will preside at all meetings on Wednesday.

At the Wednesday morning session of the Sixth Biennial Board meeting of the Pennsylvania Federation of Temple Sisterhoods which convened at 9:30 o'clock in The Castleton, Mrs. Saul Lavine, of Pittsburgh, president of the Pennsylvania State Federation of Temple Sisterhoods presided.

Mrs. Charles Mantinband of Williamsport, chairman of Student Activities of the State, gave a detailed and interesting report of the work accomplished by her committee at State College, explaining the details as she went along.

It was the unanimous action of the board that the work of the committee be continued and supported by the State Federation of Sisterhoods.

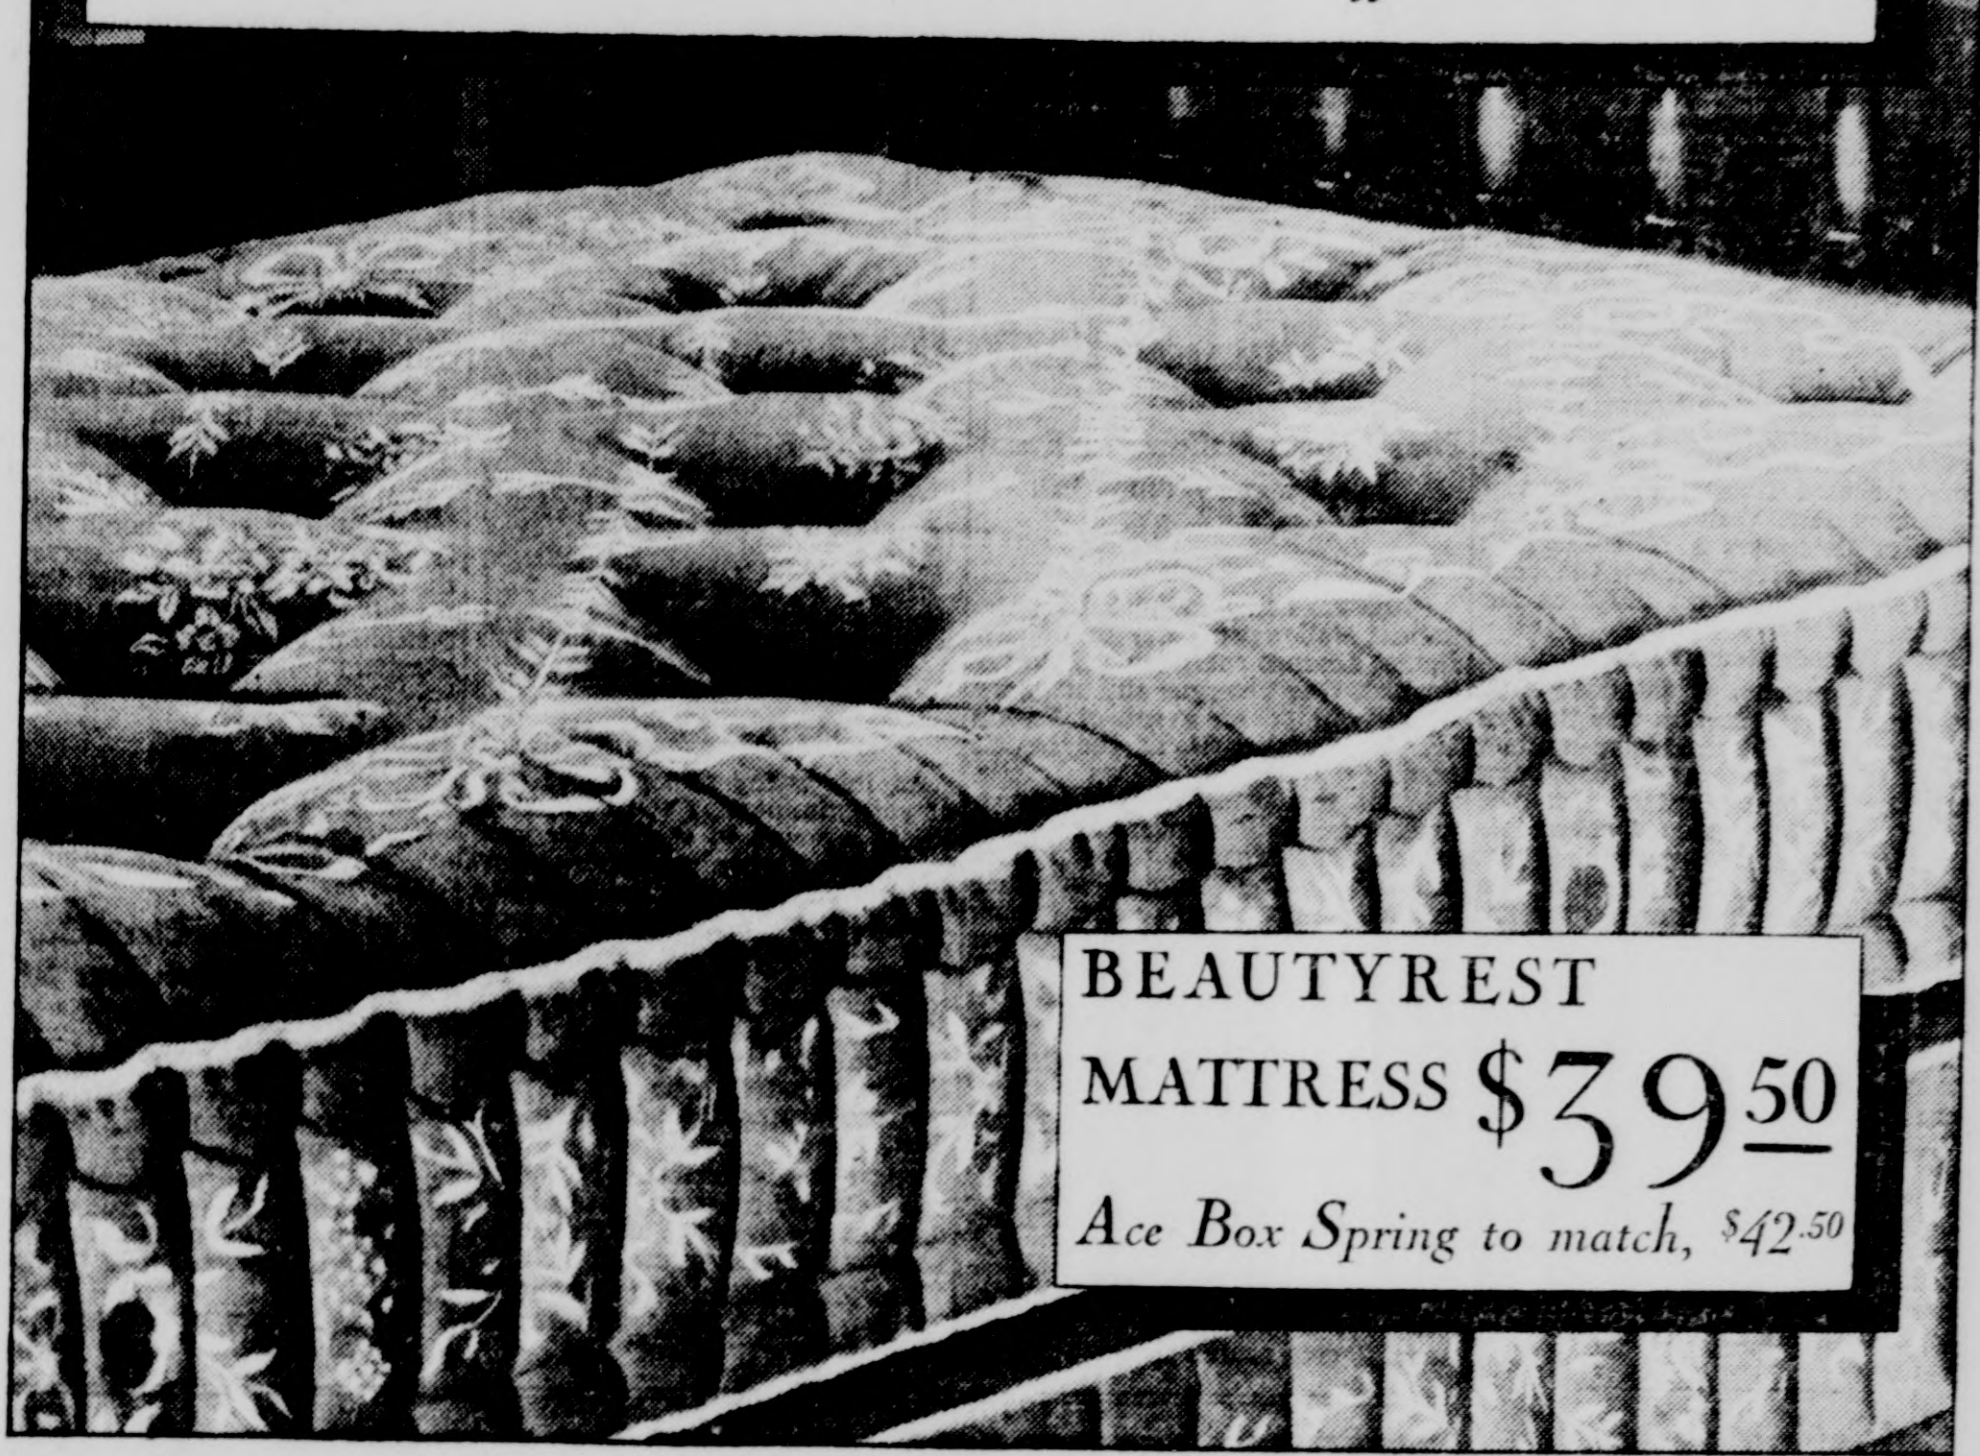

Another report of much interest was that given by Mrs. Ferdinand Dilshelm of Philadelphia, and honorary state president. Her talk was very stimulating and inspiring, centering on "Peace."

Night School Opens Tonight

Tonight at 7:30 o'clock the first session of night school will take place at the Lincoln and Garfield school on East Long avenue. It was announced today. The purpose of night school is to teach foreigners to read and write English and to aid those who desire to acquire naturalization papers to do so. Professor James M. Hughes will be in charge of night school.

"It's the modern idea of COMFORT" a young wife writes...
"So much better than the old stuffed mattress"

BEAUTYREST
MATTRESS $39.50
Ace Box Spring to match, $42.50

COMFORT such as none of us ever dreamed of even a few years ago! Just think of it! Hundreds of tiny pocketed coils, set close together, and buried between layers of softest cushioning.

When you stretch out on this wonderful new kind of mattress, you are buoyed up by it. You stretch. You turn. Complete relaxation!... You sleep. So sweetly. So refreshingly.

The Beautyrest Mattress is actually famous. Dozens of well-known people have publicly praised it. And hundreds of thousands add their praise.

In fact, over a million homes already possess it... And each day, nearly a thousand new purchasers are recorded.

Have this wonderful mattress in your own home. It's as far removed from the old stuffed mattress which would pad down and had to be made over every few years—as the modern armchair is from the old horsehair sofa.

The handsome Ace Box Spring is made to match it. Simmons Company, New York, Chicago, Atlanta, San Francisco.

FEED VALUES

Your Cows CAN Give More Milk!

Don't just feed them anything and expect your cows by some mysterious method to break a milk producing record. They are very delicately built milk machines, and must be fed a scientifically blended ration if you expect them to produce plenty of good milk, and keep in fine physical condition.

The secret of the success of Milker's Dairy Ration lies in the excellent quality of the ingredients and the way they are scientifically proportioned and blended. Body maintenance—body health and milk production as well as quality of milk have all been taken into consideration.

Milker's Dairy Ration makes cows give more milk and brings you larger milk checks—that's why it is economical.

Question Woman In Girl's Death

Denver Woman Fails To Shed Light On Slayers
Of Step-Daughter

DETECTIVE-HUSBAND
TAKES UP SEARCH

DENVER, Oct. 22.—Mrs. Pearl O'Loughlin, 30, step-mother of Leon O'Loughlin, 10-year-old Denver girl whose body was discovered in a park lake Friday today had failed to give Denver police any information concerning the slayer of the child.

Subjected to a severe grilling since early Sunday afternoon, Mrs. O'Loughlin insists she knows nothing about the crime. The questioning of Mrs. O'Loughlin reached a dramatic climax Tuesday when District Attorney Earl Wetzel and Captain of Detectives A. T. Clark took her to a mortuary where the body of the slain girl was prepared for burial.

Woman Remains Calm.

In the presence of the dead child the question after question was fired at Mrs. O'Loughlin. She insisted she knew nothing of the murder. Per the most part she remained calm.

Clues indicating a widespread plot to do away with members of the O'Loughlin family through the use of ground glass poison have been brought to light by detectives. Last week a dog and a cat belonging to a sister of Mrs. O'Loughlin died after eating food from the O'Loughlin table. An analysis of the food showed ground glass similar to that found in the contents of Leon's stomach and that of her father, City Detective Leo O'Loughlin.

O'Loughlin, who has himself been seriously ill from the effects of ground glass, left his bed in a local hospital yesterday to devote his attention to finding the slayer of his daughter.

This year 100 prizes will be given out as prizes. The awards this year will consist mostly of merchandise. Other plans and arrangements are being completed according to Alex Samuels, president of this organization.

Red Cross Aids Stranded Woman

Woman Claiming Wheatland
As Her Residence Says
Husband Ejected Her

Assistance was given a woman who gave the name of Agnes Citi, and said that her home was in Wheatland, Pa., by the Lawrence county chapter of the American Red Cross, Tuesday.

Mrs. Citi told a story of being forced from her home by her husband and having to live in a garage. She was given a meal and sent to the county home until relatives could be located. The address given in Wheatland proved to be fictitious and an effort is being made to trace her identity through a checking account in a Farrell bank.

From her conversation, Mrs. Citi is believed to be dazed by her experiences before arriving here.

Wishes To Take Appeal In Case

Rule Is Obtained By Frank S.
Hoyt In Case Brought By
E. B. Kitchen

In the case of E. B. Kitchen against Frank S. Hoyt, the defendant presented a petition in court this morning in behalf of himself and others, asking leave to appeal from a judgment obtained in the court of Alderman Richard R. Lewis of the fifth ward.

It is claimed by plaintiff that during the past summer he and others had some riding horses stabled in Neshannock township for whom they desired a caretaker. Kitchen applied for the position by letter and was told to come on trial. He was to receive $100 per month if his services proved satisfactory. After one week's trial he was discharged and was paid $25 by Mr. Hoyt, being at the rate of $100 per month. Kitchen brought suit for $75 more, or for the entire month. During the absence of Mr. Hoyt from the city a decision in Kitchen's favor was rendered by the Alderman, following a hearing. Hoyt claims that on account of being out of the city he had been unable to take an appeal within the twenty days prescribed by law.

Spanish Veterans Will Hold Party

Plan Annual Hallowe'en Event
For Legion Home On October 31

Plans are being completed for the annual Hallowe'en party of Colonel Daniel Leasure camp No. 24, United Spanish War Veterans and auxiliary which will be an event of Friday evening, October 31, at the Legion home.

While the event is primarily a masquerade, all members and their families are expected to be present and enjoy the evening, whether masked or not. The program being arranged is such as to provide all with a most delightful time.

The committee of Colonel Daniel Leasure camp in charge of the event consists of L. M. McMillen, J. C. McMillen, J. C. Carr and Reese Lewis. The ladies auxiliary has also appointed a committee to cooperate in the affair, consisting of Mrs. J. C. Carr, chairlady, Mrs. F. F. Knowles, Mrs. Harry Lach and Mrs. Mary

Rae.

You'll notice, however, that a passion for liberty never is satisfied until it gets chains on the old boss.

Judge J. A. Chambers of the Lawrence County court, will give the address of the evening, his theme will be of a patriotic nature.

The High School orchestra of Mt. Jackson High school will furnish music for the occasion.

New Castle Included In Transcontinental Passenger-Mail Line

Local Airport Manager Says
Planes Will Fly Over This City; May Stop In Future

The new Transcontinental-Western Express which will start coast to coast mail and passenger service beginning Saturday in conjunction with the Pennsylvania railroad will include a portion of its route over New Castle, is the belief of D. Roy Bradford, operator of Bradford field. This city will be in the path of the Newark-Columbus leg of the transcontinental route he said.

Bradford said today that he has conversed with several aviation authorities whose statements on the proposed route over this city corroborated with his own. Whether or not passenger-mail planes will stop over here in the future remains unanswered, Bradford said.

Col. Charles A. Lindbergh started today from the effects of poison liquor. They were William Bodamer, 42; Charles Burcham, 48; William J. Lang, 57, and his brother, Edward, 32.

Analysis of liquor found near the bodies, authorities said, revealed that the liquor was composed of wood alcohol in the ratio of 70 per cent, with a content of denatured alcohol approximating 15 per cent.

(International News Service)
ASHLAND, Pa., Oct. 22.—Dead-locked all day during the opening of its seventh biennial convention and the 24th constitutional convention miners representing several local unions in District No. 9, United Mine Workers of America, resumed their session today with the question of barring delegates from local chapters which have not paid up per capita assessments the first business to be settled.

The convention, which opened yesterday, was thrown into debate almost immediately after it was called to order when the credentials committee reported.

Insurgents among delegates opposed the report and the debate over credentials last night, which netted the third $470 County detectives took the two men in custody when several of the time of the robbery told them they noticed nothing out of the ordinary. Railroad detectives were expected to join in the investigation.

Special Train Is Planned To Waterways Meet

Tri-Valley Waterway Enthusiasts To Attend Mississippi Valley Meeting

MANY FROM HERE EXPECTED TO ATTEND

Special Rates Will Be Secured For Train To St. Louis, November 24

Arrangements are now under way to send a delegation of 125 or more from the Beaver, Mahoning, and Shenango Valley district to attend the Twelfth Annual Convention of the Mississippi Valley Association in St. Louis, Mo., on November 24.

If 125 persons can be secured to make the trip, a special train can be chartered at a fare and half rate, and efforts are now being made by officers of the Association to secure at least that many persons, if not more, to attend the convention. The special train would leave Youngstown around 7:35 Sunday evening, November 23, and would return Tuesday night, arriving in Youngstown around 7:30 Wednesday morning. The entire trip including meals and hotel fare can be made for around $75, officers of the association state.

Representative men from 20 different states will be present at the convention, and the local association would be well represented, both in numbers and in a representative way.

The executive committee of the Mississippi Valley Association is back of the local project, unanimously, and expects to receive the endorsement of the entire association at the convention.

The attendance of a big delegation of backers of the Beaver, Mahoning and Shenango Valley project would make a deep impression on the larger association, which is the most powerful, politically, of any waterway group in the United States. Their support would insure the accomplishment of the local project, officials of the organization here believe.

Splendid progress has already been made by the Beaver, Mahoning and Shenango Valley Association since its organization, a little less than a year ago, and endorsement of the project at this convention would aid materially in future progress of its plans.

Just Folks

PROOF OF LIFE

It's good to have a holiday and leave the tasks awhile.

It's good at times to take a rest and drop behind a mile.

But who has nothing left of care And not another mile to fare

Gets little pleasure from a day, though skies are bright o'er-head;

Who has no dream he must pursue.

No future task he wants to do, No need which he alone can serve might just as well be dead.

It's good at times to wake at dawn to face an idle day.

To spurn the working tools of life and spend the hours in play.

But who has finished every task Which life of him will ever ask

Will find the path of pleasure is a dreary road to tread;

Who sees no cause which he can aid.

No wrong to right, no ill to care—might just as well be dead.

Not long for living men is rest—tomorrow needs us all.

While we can hear and see and think on us the world will call;

To suffer pain and hear the cry For help from others passing by;

To long for rest and yet by day for some far goal to strive;

To worry, fret and grope along; To sense the bitterness of wrong

And ache and dream and grieve and hope is proof that we're alive!

State Commission Approves Grant To Run Busses In New Castle

(Special To The News)
PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 22.—The Public Service Commission has granted the Pittsburgh, Harmony, Butler and New Castle Railway Company permission to abandon its railway lines in the City of New Castle, according to the announcement today by Mr. David I. McCahill, President. Tracks within the city will be taken up and disposed of by the City of New Castle.

The railway company has its terminal at East New Castle from which point busses are operating to the Penn-Ohio Terminal in the Public Square of New Castle. When the interurban cars operated into New Castle the terminal was located on East Washington street, which required passengers to walk or take other transportation facilities to the Public Square which is approximately three quarters of a mile. The busses meet all interurban cars and transport the passengers to and from the city proper. The Public Service Commission found that the motor vehicle transportation, which will replace the street railway service abandonment as adequate and convenient.

The Harmony Short Line Motor Transportation Company also operates other busses from Pittsburgh to New Castle, via Zelenople and Ellwood City, also by the way of Butler.

ALWAYS DEAD TIRED?

How sad! Sallow complexion, coated tongue, poor appetite, bad breath, pimply skin and always tired. What's wrong? Chances are you're poisoned by clogged bowels and inactive liver. Take this famous prescription used constantly in place of calomel by men and women for 20 years—Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets. They are harmless yet very effective. A compound of vegetable ingredients. They act easily upon the bowels, help free the system of poison caused by faulty elimination and tone up liver.

Rosy cheeks, clear eyes and youthful energy make a success of life. Take Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets, nightly. Know them by their olive color, 15c, 30c and 60c. All druggists.

WHY are Camels welcomed with cheers in any company—a twosome or a crowd? Because they're mild—not flat or tasteless but naturally mild. They have the marvelous aroma that only choice tobaccos, mellowed by golden sunshine, then expertly cured and superbly blended, can give a cigarette. There's nothing artificial about this delightful fragrance. No doctoring, no over-processing can produce it. Camel's refreshing mildness is there from the start.

Swing with the crowd to Camels. Learn the happy difference between true mildness and insipid flatness. Smoke without fear of throat-discomfort or after-taste—just for pleasure!

George Foster And Wife Are Snowbound

Have An Exciting Experience In Trip Home From Canada Over Week End

Mr. and Mrs. George Foster of East North street, arrived home Tuesday afternoon from points in Canada and New York state, during which they were snowbound in their car by the heavy snow that fell.

On the way to Hamilton, Ontario, Canada, they traveled through Buffalo, N. Y. Enroute home they came by the way of Rochester, N. Y.

Sunday morning when they left Rochester, the sun was shining and the weather fine. They came through Warsaw, N. Y., headed for East Aurora. It was about three o'clock Sunday afternoon, when they reached Vervsburg, N. Y., and encountered the snowstorm that swept points between here and Buffalo.

About three miles out of that place on a hill, they found themselves unable to make the grade, but finally managed to reach the top by some assistance given them. Their machine was finally pushed into the shelter of a gasoline service station at the top of the hill. They had been from three p. m. until 7 p. m. making these three miles through the snow which was approximately 24 inches deep.

While they were parked in this place, along came a big state highway department snow plow and as it passed, it literally buried their machine under the snow.

They were fortunate in being able to get a garage man to come out from Vervsburg and tow them back into that place. By Monday morning at nine o'clock, the sun had come out and melted away much of the snow and they started home by another route. They came by way of

Bo Broadway

by JOSEPH VAN RAALTE

By Central Press.
NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—What can be said of Prohibition in New York, so long as the red-faced sidewalk vendor, with the whiskey-buffet voice, on Broadway at night, continues to hawk: "De Face on De Barroom Floor—Ft Cents a Copy." Speaking of Prohibition: More than half the inmates in over-crowded Sing Sing today are listed, according to their own declaration, as "total abstainers."

VANITY.
A New York millionaire who, in small things, is a stickler for simplicity, eating frugal meals and traveling to and from his office each day in the subway, entertains in other directions, preferences more complex.

For example: He has squandered half a millions bucks on a marble mausoleum, with his name carved over the door in gargantuan letters.

Vanity dies hard. In some obstinate cases it outlives the man.

A GREAT "DICK."
M old Friend Joe Smith donned his Celestial Pajamas the other day and moseyed up The Golden Stairs. Joe, who got his training at Scotland Yard, was for 32 years the Philo Vance of the Waldorf-Astoria. That was, patrolling its dim corridors and gay promenades and keeping an alert and protective eye on Peacock Alley.

Joe could spot a phoney million-dollar-front with uncanny accuracy. The racketeers—they called 'em Con Men in those days—would amble into the Waldorf, shaved, shined, manicured, immaculately attired, and non-chalantly drop into the gilt-legged, satin-flowered chairs in The Alley.

Half a minute later, Mr. Joe Smith would amble by, velvet-footed, and menacing as the shadow of a prison wall. His steely glance would hover for the briefest of instants in the direction of the Unbidden Guests—and that was all there was to it. Not a word, not a gesture. But by the time the illustrious Joseph had reached the far end of The Alley, where he turned for a final, casual survey, the Interlopers in Evening Clothes had chosen their exits and were in their way.

Joe Smith was an artist in his own particular endeavor. May that same great tribute some day be said of all us.

THE REAL ARTICLE.
Man and his wife—residents of Brooklyn—journeyed to Montreal recently. Before leaving Canada for home they went out to get a souvenir for Aunt Hattie. After a brief discussion it was decided that a pair of imported French gloves would be just the thing.

"You're sure these gloves are imported?" said the woman to the shopkeeper.

"Madam may rest assured," said the retailer.

The man and his wife got back to Brooklyn and presented Aunt Hattie with her gift, only to learn that they had toted all the way from Canada a pair of gloves manufactured in Brooklyn and which retail here for about $2. The $4.50 the gloves cost in Canada represented the Canadian import duty and the Montreal tradesman's "modest" profit.

KLASSY KAKES.

In New York it isn't a wedding cake unless Mme. Blanche de Ral-lach as designed it. This brightly lit little French woman and her daughter are architects in sugar. Their cakes are elaborate affairs, blue-printed first and then constructed along architectural lines. Some of them are seven feet high, weigh 300 pounds and cost as much as a thousand dollars.

When marriage breaks out among the Morgans, Rockefeller's, Vanderbilts, Astors, Minne, Blanche gets the job of supplying the cake. It was she who provided the cakes for the marriage feasts of the daughter of Theodore Roosevelt and of Woodrow Wilson.

It takes Mme. Blanche about two weeks to evolve a masterpiece with all the cupids and things on it, and her handiwork is considered an indispensable part of every "important" bridal affair.

If you meet a man on Maza Lane these days wearing a Gates Ajar collar you'll know it's either Jimmy Lee, Bib Boss Adjective Slinger, or Henry E. Dixie, grandpa's favorite thespian.

Major Dugmore Speaks At College

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Oct. 22.—Major A. Radcliffe Dugmore, famous British author, big game hunter, and soldier, spoke last night before the Westminster College student body and faculty. Major Dugmore, recently returned from hunting trip to Africa, illustrated his travelogue with moving pictures.

During the world war, Major Dugmore was rejected on account of his age, later enlisted as a private, was commissioned major because of his bravery as a member of "the Devil's Own," and after receiving wounds was sent to the United States to aid in drilling troops.

What "Pinchotism" Means

When Gifford Pinchot became Governor he found the State burdened with an appropriation liability of nearly $32,000,000 with only $31,000 in the General Fund to meet it. At the end of his Administration he left a balance in the State Treasury of over $20,000,000 — millions above all liabilities.

During Pinchot's Administration:—

85% of the State's income went back to the people in good roads and appropriations for their schools, hospitals, etc.

Enactment of the Administrative Code completely reorganized the State Government and assembled more than 100 independent spending agencies under 18 departments and 3 independent Commissions.

The Budget was established, paving the way for adequate financial control.

2372 miles of good road were constructed, and nearly $200,000,000 was expended upon road work without a breath of scandal.

The Department of Public Instruction handled more than a hundred and twenty-five million dollars on the pay-as-you-go plan, at 5% less cost of administration than during the preceding 4 years, while the State's contributions to teachers' salaries in the poorer districts were increased 50% to 75%.

Nearly $800,000,000 of questionable or fraudulent securities were shut out of Pennsylvania.

More progress was made toward the purification of streams than in the entire previous history of the State, and agreements were entered into with New York, New Jersey, Ohio, West Virginia and Kentucky to prevent stream pollution.

Many of our best laws were enacted in protection of our dairymen, our farmers, and the food supply of our people, and in safeguarding the workers in our industries. Likewise, broadening amendments were made to our Workmen's Compensation and other labor legislation.

Those are but examples. A Governor who thus devotes himself to the interests of the entire State and its people, is cordially hated by those few large corporations which gouge the public with extortionate rates, or have looked to professionalized politics for special privileges. These are the interests now picturing Mr. Pinchot as an enemy of all business, and a menace to investments, because he promises to correct such dishonesties.

Mr. Pinchot's four years in office, his accomplishments in spite of the financial handicap, and his plain statements in this campaign, refute that libel. In the Primary the Republican voters of Pennsylvania nominated him as their candidate for Governor. The staunch Republicanism of this State, as well as the best interests of the Commonwealth and its citizens, demand that you elect him and all the other Republican nominees. To do so —

Local Police Have Fingerprint System

New Jersey has a new fingerprint law which makes it "touch on criminals" but law-abiding citizens will not mind that. Under the new law all police departments must be outfitted to fingerprint and photograph any person arrested for an indictable offense. Copies of the prints and photos must be sent to the state capital and Washington.

New Castle has two fingerprint and photograph experts. Sergeant Dave Nelson and Marion Young, patrolman and a former chief of police, fingerprint and photograph at the city police station.

However while the New Jersey law has merit it also has demerits according to a fingerprint expert of Atlantic City who says that "statistics show that only 20 percent of all persons arrested, on indictable offenses are guilty and it is an indignity to make an innocent person undergo fingerprinting and photographing for the files. There should be a clause, which would make it possible for a person found guilty to get back the records."

The fingerprint expert, William Kelland however, in naming the merits says that "just a short time ago we went to a store. A robbery had been committed. Fingerprints were found on a cigarette tin. A hour and a half we had made an arrest and discovered the fingerprints were those of a man on parole. He was returned to Atlanta."

Sheriff Spoils Wedding Plans Of Young Couple

Sheriff Stops Ceremony And Takes Couple Back To Pittsburgh

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 22.—Anna May Cruise, a blonde and blue-eyed 15-year-old student in Langley high school, was back in her parents' home today because hard-hearted police and a sheriff separated her from her sweetheart, Bruce Campbell, 19, when their elopement was about to culminate at a West Virginia altar.

The fleeing couple threaded their way through police of three cities aroused by J. P. Cruise, the girl's father, and when both were about to pronounce their "I do's" before a Wellsburg minister, in stepped Sheriff Irvin W. Charnock, of the unromantic heart.

School chums of the girl whispered to Cruise that his daughter had eloped with Campbell. The father became suspicious when his daughter and Campbell, who resided at the Cruise home, disappeared yesterday morning.

The couple first went to Canton, O., where they eluded their pursuers by alighting from a motor bus on the outskirts of the city. They then boarded an automobile for Wellsburg, where the sheriff took them in tow.

Anna May and Campbell were brought here by the parents of the girl who released both from the custody of Sheriff Charnock. The tender age of the girl caused her parents to forestall the proposed marriage.

Christian Endeavor Rally On Thursday

Interesting Program Has Been Arranged For The Occasion At New Bedford

Semi annual rally of the Lawrence County Christian Endeavor Union will be an event of Thursday evening at the Hopewell Presbyterian church at New Bedford.

All plans have been completed for the event and it is anticipated that every Christian Endeavor Society in the county will be represented.

The meeting will start with a song service at 7:30 p. m. Later Rev. Arthur Stephenson of Ellwood City, will deliver the Rally address.

Lunch and a social hour will be enjoyed at 9:30 p. m. This promises to be one of the best rallies yet held by the County Union.

There is considerable keen competition for the shield which is given to the best society. The shield is now held by the Plaingrove Presbyterian church.

Huge Ransom Sum Asked By Chinese

Chinese Bandits Will Release Priests And Nuns For $5,000,000

(International News Service)

LONDON, Oct. 22.—Ransom of 10,000,000 Chinese dollars (about $5,000,000) is being demanded by Chinese Communist bandits for the release of 17 Catholic priests and nuns captured during the sacking of Kianfu, it was revealed in dispatches to the evening newspapers today.

The Italian prelate, Monsignor Mignani, who was among those captured but released in order to negotiate the ransom, arrived at Kiang with news of the bandits' demands, the dispatch stated.

The kidnapped priests and nuns are French, Italian and Filipino.

Travel In Local Street Cars Distance Equivalent To 36 Times Around Entire World

How would any of the readers like to ride a distance equivalent to approximately 36 times around the world is 25,000 miles in circumference?

No doubt he or she would arm himself or herself with a lemon, gum or some other old-fashioned remedy with which to keep "crazy sickness" away; but not so the careful operators of Penn-Ohio cars here.

They've been travelin' abroad the street cars so long they know every twist and turn, every face, the habits of those who ride the cars and have a speakin' acquaintance with almost every rider.

Firsthand there are three employees of the Penn-Ohio who have been in service 33 years which means they have worked 12,045 days and on each day of operation they averaged 75 miles.

With the aid of a pencil eraser and arithmetic it is figured that E. A. Cooke, L. C. Houston and W. F. Shippe, 33 years in service, have operated on cars a total distance of 903,375 miles.

C. J. Garwig and Bert Peet have had 32 years of street car service here, with 11,680 days of service, 75 miles a day and their total operation is figured at approximately 876,000 miles.

The other employees who have had 20 or more years of service follow: Clark Pattison 31; T. D. Allen, 31; J. C. Sergeant, 26; C. C. Wick, 26; H. A. McConnell, 26; Jesse McCombs, 26; C. C. Clark, 24; D. H. Barge, 24.

P. M. Brest, 23; E. Miller, 21; D. M. McFate, 21; C. Kellher, 20; G. E. Mellon, 20; D. K. Frazier, 20; M. E. Bare, 20; and others are close to the 20 year service mark.

Present Closing Arguments Today In Merger Suit

Clay Crawford, Cleveland, Continues Closing Arguments Against Merger

STOCK EXCHANGE TERMS REVIEWED

(International News Service)
YOUNGSTOWN, O., Oct. 22.—Basing his attack on the stock exchange terms of Bethlehem Steel Corporation and Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company when the merger of the two concerns was negotiated, Clay Crawford of Cleveland, attorney for the plaintiff in the injunction suit to prevent the merger, continued his closing argument in common pleas court here today before Judge David G. Jenkins.

Taking up the battle to convince the court that the merger should be invalidated when Luther Day, Cleveland, chief counsel for the plaintiffs, ended his argument testimony, declaring that the exchange terms of the merger, on one-third shares of Bethlehem for one share of Sheet and Tube, were inequitable.

Crawford charged that the sale was based on the earnings of 1929, which he said was an abnormal year. He maintained that the auditing firm of price, Waterhouse and Company had set up a "hypothetical" Bethlehem Corporation, the capital structure of which was inferior to that of Youngstown Sheet and Tube.

Day completed his argument after attacking the legality of the merger contract, which he said was voted in violation of the corporation code of 1929. He centered his fight yesterday, the second day of his closing argument, on the $6,000 proxies which were voted for the merger on last April 8.

Value Of Lines

Creator Of "Old Home Town" Shows How Curves Produce Effect Of Life And Action In Drawing

(This is another lesson in the national cartoon contest of Central Press.)
By LEE STANLEY
Creator Of "The Old Home Town"

The study of straight and curved lines is important to the beginner artist.

One must remember these facts: The curved line put forth life in the drawing, suggests movement and action.

The straight line indicates objects solid but lifeless and motionless. Curved lines appear oftenest in living objects—people, animals and so forth.

Straight lines are predominant in lifeless objects—buildings, furniture and the like.

Above are two sets of living beings, exactly alike except that one set is drawn with straight lines and the other set with curves. You can instantly see that the curved line set looks the more life-like.

The figures in the straight line set appear as cold and stiff as statues. You find it hard to imagine the arms and legs bending and moving. But in the curved line set it is very easy to imagine that the figures can move about since the curved lines suggest life and motion.

TOMORROW: Simplicity of Lines.

Flames Destroy Big Flour Mill

Four-Story Brick Flour Mill At Chalfont, Pa., Destroyed By Fire Today

DAMAGE PLACED NEAR $100,000

(International News Service)
DOYLESTOWN, Pa., Oct. 22.—Fire raged through the four-story brick and frame flour and feed mill of F. D. Hartzell and Sons Company at Chalfont, five miles west of here this afternoon, completely gutting the structure. The origin of the blaze has not been determined.

The mill, hundreds of bushels of wheat and feed, and 25 tons of flour were destroyed at an estimated loss of between $75,000 and $100,000.

The mill was one of the oldest in Bucks county and the fire is said to have been the most disastrous in the history of the flour and feed industry in this section. Several nearby storehouses and the home of Harvey Thomas, an employee of the mill, were threatened.

Volunteer fire companies from Doylestown, Chalfont, Lansdale and Hatboro, 17 miles distant, called. Water was pumped from the north branch of Neshaminy creek about 100 yards from the plant.

The flames started on the fourth floor and fed by the huge stores of grain and flour spread rapidly through the entire plant. Fellow employees had to drag Howard Frankensfield a 70-year old miller from his post. He had been employed in the plant for 30 years and refused to believe the mill could burn down.

The mill was founded more than 70 years ago. It had been damaged by fire once before, the blaze occurring in 1878, but the fire today destroyed the entire structure. Only the blackened brick walls remained standing and they threatened to collapse any minute.

Ferree Is Granted Divorce From Wife

Decree in divorce was handed down by Judge R. L. Hildebrand this morning in the case of William H. Ferree against Estella Ferree. Application was made on the grounds of adultery. The couple were married in November 1920 and lived in Wayne township until March 1929 when they had a boarder, George Kline, and when Ferree became suspicious and ordered the boarder away, Mrs. Ferree went with him.

Kline took her to his mother's in Beaver, where they remained for six weeks, according to the decree. Mrs. Ferree was then taken to Kline's sister's in Monaca, and later went with her to Baltimore, Md. When Mrs. Ferree became ill Kline is alleged to have brought her back. A child was born to her in the Rochester hospital. Later Mrs. Ferree went to the home of her father in North Beaver township and after that to the county home.

Ferree kept the two children whom Mrs. Ferree had left and later in a court proceeding was awarded the custody of the third child, born in the Rochester hospital.

Very Few "Boomers" Are Seen Now-Days

There once was a time when a railroader, printer, telegraph operator, painter and men in other lines of endeavor toured the country "hitting" here and there, working a few weeks, perhaps a couple of months then drifting to other climes. They were known as "boomers."

Those days it would seem, judging from reports, have passed, perhaps forever.

It was nothing unusual for a yardmaster of a railroad to have several new faces applying for work each morning and in nine of 10 chances they got on the "extra list."

Printers also roamed the various print shops and it was seldom that they didn't get a chance to roam the

"ad alleys" or manipulate the keys of a linotype.

Telegraphers got the chance of "sitting in" on the wire while the regular brass pounders took a day off, glad to be away from the nerve-racking job.

And painters, providing they were good ones and it was a well considered that the "boomers" had an intricate knowledge of the endeavors they followed generally got a chance to ply a brush on some job.

But the "boomer" it would seem has practically become extinct. Seldom does one see more than a few during a week. With business conditions not so bright there may be a revival during the winter.

Norman Brings Home Porcupine For Pet

Norman Ringer has a pet porcupine, and even though he can't pet it, he thinks it is quite the pet.

Remember the famous cartoon of the boy of the stone ages bringing home a dinosaur to his parents, and saying apologetically—"Aw, ma, he won't be no bother?" Well, this porcupine isn't so big, but Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Ringer are rather at loss as to what to do with him.

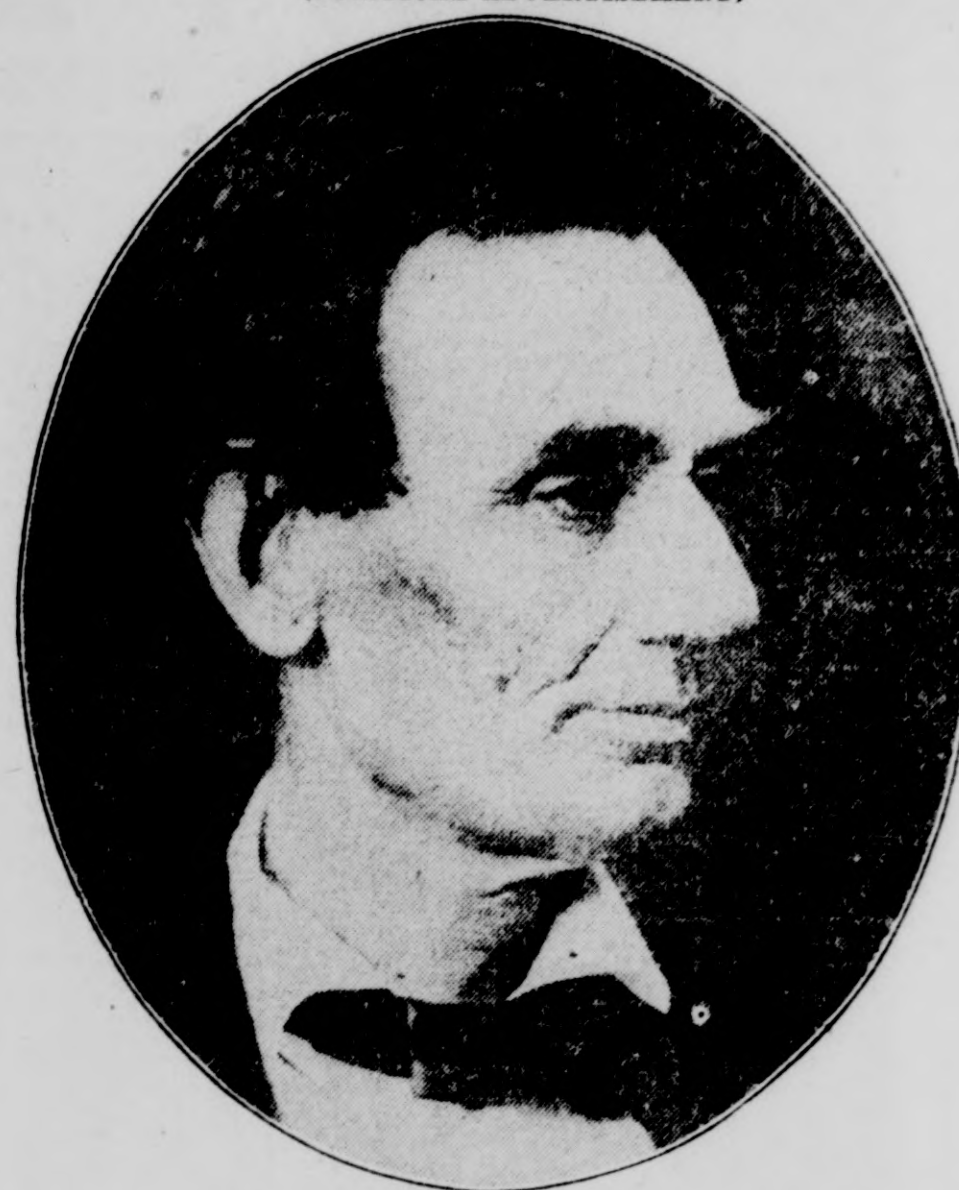

Norman met his cousin from Merced, the other day, and his cousin told the boy of the porcupine he had caught in the woods in this district. Norman said that he wished he had a porcupine for a pet—and he got it. He took it home and put a large perforated copper can over its head, in the back yard.

Pieces of apple are the chief diet of the porcupine. Everyone but Norman keep their distance from the perforated can, for some of the holes are about large enough for one of the quills to shoot through.

REPLEVIN WRITS IN TWO CASES ISSUED
The Cedar Rapids Engineering Company has issued a writ of re-

(POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT)

"That Government of the People By the People for the People Shall Not Perish"

SHALL THE PHILADELPHIA ORGANIZATION RULE THIS STATE?

The Philadelphia Vare Organization has for years been a byword for political corruption.

It has almost bankrupted Philadelphia, and for next year the tax rate in that city will be raised—according to the City Controller, more than 25 per cent.

In the absence of William S. Vare, Charles B. Hall dominates the Philadelphia Organization. They ran their own candidate for Governor in the Republican primary, announcing that the purpose of that candidacy was to procure a much larger share of the State's money for projects controlled by Hall, Vare and the Philadelphia Organization.

Defeated in the primary, they attempted to steal the Republican nomination. Defeated again by the Supreme Court, they now turn to a Democrat in their efforts to control the Government of this Commonwealth and the State Treasury, with its accumulating surplus.

Their excuse for bolting the head of the Republican ticket is that Gifford Pinchot is not a good enough Republican for them. Hence they urge their followers to vote for a Democrat.

NO MAN WHO HAS BEEN A REPUBLICAN GOVERNOR OF THIS STATE CAN BE SUCCESSFULLY CHALLENGED AS TO HIS REPUBLICANISM

The Hall-Vare Organization has stepped out of the Republican Party into an alliance with John M. Hemphill. The particulars of the deal between the Hall-Vare Organization and Hemphill may not be known, but no informed citizen believes that Hall and Vare are for Hemphill unless Hemphill is for Hall and Vare.

For eight consecutive years, under Pinchot and Fisher, Pennsylvania has been administered honestly, efficiently and economically in the interest of all the citizens.

If Hall and the Vare Organization get control of the State, where is the money coming from to meet their promised raids upon the Treasury? It can only come from more State taxes.

There is only one safeguard for the citizens of this Commonwealth—

Ellwood High To Play Aliquippa

Blue And White Warriors To Clash With Aliquippa On Local Field Saturday

By TONY PASTA
ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 22.—Ellwood City High's blue and white warriors will face their toughest foe of the season when they clash with Aliquippa this Saturday on the local field. The blue and white will have a real acid test for this Valley aggregation has one of the best eleven in this district.

In spite of the fact that Coach Lippe has only a few regulars with him from last year's team, he has developed a fast and strong eleven. Their strength can be somewhat measured by the fact that they held the powerful red and black machine of New Castle down to a 13-2 score.

This contest was a night battle, which of course, made it more difficult for the Valley lads to perform their best.

Since Lippe's boys have developed and now have what is probably the best club in the Beaver Valley. Aliquippa's last victim was Monaca whom they swamped with a 33-0 victory. They seem to be headed for the Valley championship and hope to add Ellwood to their list of victories.

In the battle with Grove City last week the Tubers displayed a fine aerial attack but had one great weakness and that was fumbling. On one occasion the oval was only a few yards from the scoring line when it was fumbled. The blue and white will have to improve in this department if they want to make a strong attack.

There is little question but what Ellwood is considered the under dog in the coming tilt this Saturday, but the Ingle machine should be a much stronger opponent than expected if they play the calibre of foot-ball which they displayed at other times.

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 22.—The annual monthly meeting of the Women's Missionary society of the Presbyterian church took place on Tuesday night at 8 o'clock in the social rooms of the church. Mrs. W. A. Kerr had charge of a most interesting program which included:

Devotionals by Mrs. Grace Benford; paper on "Alaska" by Mrs. H. H. Davis, talk on personal trip to Alaska by Mrs. Eva Vosler and short sketches on "India" by Miss Rebecca McConaghy and Mrs. Lydia Douds.

During the business meeting plans were completed for the annual Praise and Thanksgiving service which will take place in the church November 19. This will be a special service in honor of the Thanksgiving season.

At the November meeting the members will have the pleasure of hearing Mrs. Foster, returned missionary on furlough, in New Wilmington, speak on her adventures in India. She is a sister of Mrs. Wendell Duff, missionary from this district and will no doubt have an interesting number of facts to impart to her listeners.

Hostesses for yesterday were: Mesdames L. W. Nickum, E. B. Baker, William Gray, William Gettig, C. J. Carlsen, Earl R. Kimes, H. W. Stewart, Nancy Patterson and Miss Marie Benford.

Mrs. J. E. Wallace Entertains For Daughter Tuesday

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 22.—Mrs. J. E. Wallace of First street entertained a group of young people on Tuesday evening at her home in honor of her daughter's 13th birthday. There were nine guests present, and decorations were in keeping with the Halloween season.

A social evening of games and cards were enjoyed, concluding with the serving of dainty refreshments by Mrs. Wallace assisted by Mrs. Stanley Hertzog.

Those present were: Mary Jane Johnson, Catherine Murphy, Esther Bolotin, Lucille Jackson, Gerald Scheidehammer, Eugene Majors, Scotty Lee and Robert Howe.

Mrs. Markwort Is Club Hostess

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 22.—Mrs. Theodore Markwort of South Ellwood heights entertained the members of the Inter-City Bridge Club Tuesday afternoon at a one o'clock luncheon.

Covers were laid for eight in the dining room where a dainty menu was served by the hostess. Special guests present were Mrs. Ray Aylesworth and Mrs. Nelson.

During the afternoon two tables of bridge were in play and concluded with score honors going to Mrs. Markwort and Mrs. J. C. Boyce. In two weeks Mrs. Frank Maltrup of Beaver Falls will entertain.

Rotarians To Hear Dr. Swick

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 22.—Dr. J. Howard Swick, congressman from this district, will be the speaker at the weekly dinner meeting of the Ellwood Rotary Club Thursday night in the dining room of the Presbyterian church.

On Thursday afternoon Dr. Swick will speak in New Castle, leaving there in time to be with the local Rotarians at dinner, then after his talk he will go on to New Brighton for a political meeting at 8 o'clock.

In view of the present political crisis in Pennsylvania, Dr. Swick's address will be anticipated with considerable interest by the local men.

Last Club Party To Be Guest Day

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 22.—The last Ladies' Day Party of the season will take place Thursday afternoon at 1:00 o'clock and each member of the club will be permitted to bring guests.

POTATO CROP IS BELOW AVERAGE

Drought And Wire-Worms Damage Crops This Year, Says County Agent

The potato crop of Lawrence county was hurt by the dry growing season of this year, just as potato crops over Pennsylvania and the entire United States were hurt. Lawrence County Farm Agent McCulloch stated this morning.

United States yields a crop that is 40 million bushels short of the five year average. Pennsylvania, in 1929 gave a yield of 25 million and 740 thousand bushels of potatoes. This year the yield has been set at 20 million and 60 thousand bushels.

Considering the Lawrence county potato crop, with those figures in front of you, it is no surprise that this year's crop is way below average, according to the County Agent.

The crop damage was general and many counties had much worse crops than this.

Considerable damage has been done this year by the wire-worms, a pest that attacks potatoes. Lawrence county farmers have had to contend with wire-worms.

Although the number of bushels here is not greatly below average, there are more seconds than generally.

Two Women Rescued As Building Burns

Pittsburgh Firemen Rescue Two Negro Women As Small Building Burns

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 22.—Two women were rescued from flames which destroyed a one-story confectionery building today and spread to two adjoining structures before being brought under control.

The women, Thelma Thomas, 26, and Mrs. Julia Hunt, 43, negroes, were sleeping in the rear of the store. The Thomas woman was overcome by smoke before patrolman J. J. O'Connor and Henry Tesh were able to carry her to safety.

Loss in the fire was placed at $2,000 by battalion chief Frank Harris. Flames consumed a shoe shining parlor and a barber shop before they were brought under control.

Mrs. Mabel Hansen, occupant of the Regent apartments, today was safe after she notified firemen of flames that were burning between the walls of the building. A woman was assisted from the third floor of the building by firemen.

(Copyright, 1930, by J. Carroll Mansfield)

CAPTURED BY A LARGE WAR PARTY OF SHAWNEES UNDER CHIEF BLACK FISH, BOONE WAS DISMAYED TO HEAR THAT HIS CAPTORS WERE ON THE WAY TO ATTACK BOONESBOROUGH. BOONE KNEW THAT WITH MOST OF THE MEN AWAY THE FORT COULD NOT HOLD OUT.

TO SAVE THE WOMEN AND CHILDREN LEFT ALMOST DEFENSELESS AT BOONESBOROUGH, BOONE RESOLVED TO SACRIFICE HIS LITTLE PARTY AT BLUE LICK. HE TOLD BLACK FISH THAT THE FORT WAS TOO STRONG TO BE TAKEN AND SUGGESTED THAT, INSTEAD, HE SURPRISE THE MEN AT THE LICK.

BOONE'S SUGGESTION PLEASED BLACK FISH, AND HE AT ONCE LED HIS BRAVES TOWARD BLUE LICK. ENGROSSSED IN MAKING SALT AND NOT EXPECTING AN ATTACK, BOONE'S COMRADES AT THE LICK WERE EASILY SURPRISED AND QUICKLY MADE PRISONERS.

ELATED BY HIS CAPTURES, BLACK FISH GAVE UP THE IDEA OF ATTACKING BOONESBOROUGH AND STARTED FOR HOME. AFTER MORE THAN A WEEK'S MARCH THE PARTY REACHED THE CHIEF VILLAGE OF THE SHAWNEES.

Light Workout For High Squad

Coach Bridenbaugh Taking No Chance On Injury To Team Members

WASHINGTON HOPES TO WIN SATURDAY

The New Castle high school, undefeated red and black football team continued training on Tuesday afternoon at Taggart field in preparation for the Washington high game Saturday at Washington. For the second consecutive day Coach Phil Bridenbaugh sent his cohorts through a light workout.

Following signal drills the local mentor drilled the gridders on several new plays and then called it a night after the boys raced around the track once. Whether the local coach will send his boys through a scrimmage this week is not known. With such an important game ahead, Coach Bridenbaugh rather than take a chance on losing any first team men, perhaps, has outlined a light schedule for this week. The game on Saturday is a very important one in the W. P. I. A. A. win for New Castle will mean that the local eleven is near another W. P. I. A. A. title. A victory for Washington will place it high in the league standing. Due to the importance of this contest both coaches, Phil Bridenbaugh and Hank Day of Washington are working hard to have their squads fit to give their best performance.

Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner stated today that the tickets for this game were placed on sale this morning at the Sporting Goods store and at the high school.

WASHINGTON, Pa., Oct. 22.—Washington high school gridders, far from discouraged because the much heavier Wilkesburg high eleven held them to but nine first downs and no score last Saturday, have begun preparations for a much harder game here this week-end, when they will meet Phil Bridenbaugh's New Castle high huskies at College field.

Hank Day's warriors, playing the hardest schedule of any team in the W. P. I. A. A. race this season, went to Wilkesburg following a grueling afternoon at Duquesne, and in this week's workouts, Day is planning on making the program as light as possible for his proteges.

The tie score has certainly not eliminated the Blue and Black team from the title chase. This has been a year of no decision games for the schoolboy athletes and nearly all teams in the league have either met defeat or been deadlocked in games to date.

If the locals can get past the powerful New Castle aggregation they still face stiff battles with Turtle Creek, Har-Brack and Jeannette high school elevens.

Bob Anderson, husky fullback whose work in the Wilkesburg game stamped him as worthy of his All-W. P. I. A. A. selection last fall, will not participate in practice until mid-week. He suffered a severe ankle injury in the tilt at the Holy City, and was forced to leave the game during the last period.

Sutherland Is Quite Gloomy

Coach Jock Sutherland Says Notre Dame Will Beat His Pitt Panthers

PITT TEAM IS NOT GREAT ONE

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Oct. 22.—"Our team can't expect to beat Notre Dame Saturday."

With this pessimistic statement, Jock Sutherland today forecast a crushing defeat of his University of Pittsburgh Panthers by the Irish of Notre Dame here next Saturday.

Sutherland outranked both Gil Dobbie and Knute Rockne in his gloom. "Notre Dame has the best team in its history from all reports and judging by its performance to date," he said.

"We'll go into the game seriously crippled. Our prospects were none too good even before we had an injury. With our full man power, this year's team can't compare with other good Pitt teams. At the start of the season I said we probably would lose two games. We are fortunate to have gone this far without a loss. But the Notre Dame game will be one of the two."

"The best we can hope for is to hold them down to a low score, but common sense points to a Notre Dame victory by perhaps two or three touchdowns."

Seven Pitt squad members are on the hospital list.

Heydler Predicts Revision Of Rules

There are far more needed revision than the sacrifice fly rule in the national pastime, according to President John Heydler, National League Scoring rules should be clarified so the average fan can tell the difference between an error and a hit and the method of figuring a hurler's average is in need of revision, he opines. Baseball writers now are working toward a clarification of the rules, Heydler stated.

Powerful Teams Battle Saturday

Two Powerful Undefeated Grid Machines Will Get Real Tests

YALE FAVORED TO BEAT ARMY

By COPELAND C. BURG
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—Two powerful undefeated elevens and two teams, strong even in their downfall, take the turf this Saturday in games promising enough thrills to make every Adam's apple in staid New England bounce just a little bit faster.

Dartmouth, unbowed and with an army of reserves almost as big as the hordes of Notre Dame, plays Harvard at Cambridge and Yale, beaten, but a slowly developing machine of strength, engages the undefeated Army in Yale Bowl.

And over here in the third ring, in case you are bored, Princeton and Navy, who have bowed enough this season to have kinks in their necks, will smite each other right mightily for the booty prize.

Dartmouth, may be without the services of Frigid and Clark but Coach Cannell has a wealth of reserve material. In Ben Tichnor of Harvard and Hal Andres of Dartmouth a great deal between centers will be fought. Both are almost perfect in the pivot job, Tichnor having an edge in passing ability.

The Army-Yale conflict is a toss-up with Yale slightly favored. The Blue's defeat of Brown last week showed a vastly improved eleven over that which lost to Georgia and in Albion Booth Yale poses perhaps the best all-around player in cleats today.

Princeton, after losing to Brown, showed better form even though suffering another defeat at the hands of Cornell. Bill Roper's teams have a habit of starting badly, slowly getting into a "jell" and finally surprising even Roper by knocking over the best team on their schedule.

Gridiron Gossip

Westminster's Titan band of footballers will try for their second victory of the season, Saturday at New Wilmington, when they go up against Slippery Rock Teachers College team. The Beede coached machine has been functioning smoothly, but they have dropped three straight games, and they are tired of this business. Saturday will be just as good a time as any to start winning a few games. The backfield shift that is planned by Beede may help out.

Knute Rockne and his gang of husky Notre Dame boys are to invade the Pitt Stadium this week-end, with the Pitt Panthers having in wait to devour them. The Carnegie Tech team found that Notre Dame still has a claim to the national title, and that they are very tough on the subject. Against Tech they scored three times. Coach Jock Sutherland sure would like to knock off the South Benders and will put forth every effort to have his finest Panthers ready for the feast.

Friday night down in Reeves Stadium, Beaver Falls, the fur is going to fly, and fly plenty. The reason happens to be the annual grid game between Geneva and Grove City, and well if you have ever attended any of these meetings, you will know what I wanted to say. The game this week looks like a natural. Both teams are oh so very good. The Groves are perhaps just a wee bit the stronger on the offense, but their defense can't be any better than the Covenanters. Coaches Harpster and Berry, both former All-Americans are putting the boys through a lot of hard work this week, because this is one game on the schedule that both teams like to win.

Bethany's outlook for Friday night at Fulton Park, Wheeling, is one that is not bedecked with roses either. The Bisons with only a mediocre team, and having lost every game on the card to date will have to engage West Virginia Wesleyan, and this is no easy trick either. The Wesleyan gang held West Virginia and New York down to low scores, and they are strong Coach Knight is not sleeping very good these nights, and it isn't the heat that bothers him either.

Allegheny College gridders having won three in a row are out to make it four straight this week when they engage Adrian College of Michigan at Montgomery Field, Meadville. The Coach Crum team looked very good against Westminster, Thiel and Edinboro Teachers and they are predicting great things for the 1930 edition of the Blue and Gold. Adrian is quite strong this year and may give the Alleghenians a tough afternoon, but the Meadville boys are favored to cop the fourth one.

Carnegie Tech takes on a "breather" Saturday, meeting Western Reserve at Cleveland, while their neighbors the Pitt boys are taking on Notre Dame, or a licking I don't know which. But, anyhow the Techies are going to loaf through this encounter this week, and sort of look ahead to the New York University game at the Stadium in one week. Tech came out of the Notre Dame game, intact, and Coach Stef-fen and Coach Waddell will have their entire first string ready for experimental purposes this week. Pitt faced Western Reserve 52 to 0.

Mahoning Banquet Here Next Tuesday

Mahoning A. A. which achieved a good baseball record during the past season will hold their annual banquet at Columbus society hall, October 28, according to Peter Cardella, manager. Mahoning played the Scarazzo for the independent championship. Scarazzo won. Previously however the Mahoning had lost only a few games out of approximately 30.

Fractured Neck Kills Young Chester, Pa., Football Player

(International News Service) CHESTER, Pa., Oct. 22.—The first football fatality of the season in Delaware county was reported here today when Stanley Pomianak, 22-year-old local youth, succumbed in a local hospital.

Death was due to a fractured neck sustained in a game on October 12 between the Wilmington Panthers and the St. Hedwig Catholic church team of which Pomianak was a member. The game was won by the latter team by the score of 12 to 0. Pomianak was injured in the final period after having scored the two touchdowns by his eleven. He was taken to the Chester hospital where it was found his neck had been broken in two places.

Coach Boyd Gives Union High Football Team Trick Plays To Use Friday

When Union high football team goes forth to battle New Wilmington Friday afternoon, at the Scotland Lane field, they will carry with them a bag full of trick plays. Coach David M. Boyd has been drilling the Unionites all week in a group of "foolers".

New Wilmington high is coming to Scotland Lane determined to down the Union team. Coach Kenny Delahunty has a fine group of players this year and they think that this is their year to take the measure of the Scotland Lancers.

A great little ball game is anticipated for Friday afternoon, with a goodly crowd on hand to watch the Class B school boys go through their paces.

Stribling To Meet Christner Thursday

Young Stribling and Knockout Christner will meet in a 10 round bout at Newark, N. J., Thursday night. A year or more ago Christner was winning with the topnotchers but a few months ago Primo Camera put him to sleep at Detroit. Stribling has been earning knockouts having administered dream wallop to Otto Von Porat and Phil Scott.

Maxie To Defend His Title Tonight

Maxie Rosenbloom, light-heavyweight champion will defend his crown when he meets Abe Bain, New York, in a 15 round bout at Madison Square garden, Gotham, tonight. Little is known of Bain. Writers who have an eye on the bout have named him "What-Have-You-Bain?" inasmuch as they have failed to discover where he has been prominent.

Titan Backfield Changed Again; Beede Is Seeking Fastest Four

(Special To The News) NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Oct. 22.—In an effort to get the four men who will work together in the smoothest manner, Coach "Dike" Beede has again made shifts in the Westminster college backfield which may make considerable difference in the functioning of the team against Slippery Rock here Saturday.

At the start of the season, Michaels was at quarter, Perrin at full, Hamas at right half, and Haldy at left half. Then Glenn Shaffer was placed at quarter, Michaels sent to fullback, and Haldy and Hamas remained at the halfback posts. The next shift was to put Michaels back at quarter, send Shaffer to left half, move Hamas to full, and place Haldy at right half.

So with Michaels, Perrin, Haldy, Hamas, Ha per, Shaffer, and Ketterer all having seen action, it is a toss-up as to which four will str t against Kerr Thompson's Slippery Rock team Saturday. It is likely that Harper and Shaffer, two freshmen who played well against Grove City, will get a chance to start against the Teachers, the other two position, though, are not certain.

THROAT DOCTORS pick

OLD GOLD

in Public Test of 4 Leading Cigarettes

By ROBERT RIPLEY, Himself

"Believe it or not . . . Here's real authority. Registered physicians, specializing in the care of the nose and throat! Doctors who see every day the ill-effects of cigarettes that are too harsh, too raw, too irritating to delicate membranes.

"I picked the Doctors as taste-testers because they naturally judge cigarettes for their throat-ease.

"This was to be a taste-test . . . but I knew every doctor would instinctively rate the four cigarettes on their smoothness and throat-comfort as well as their flavor.

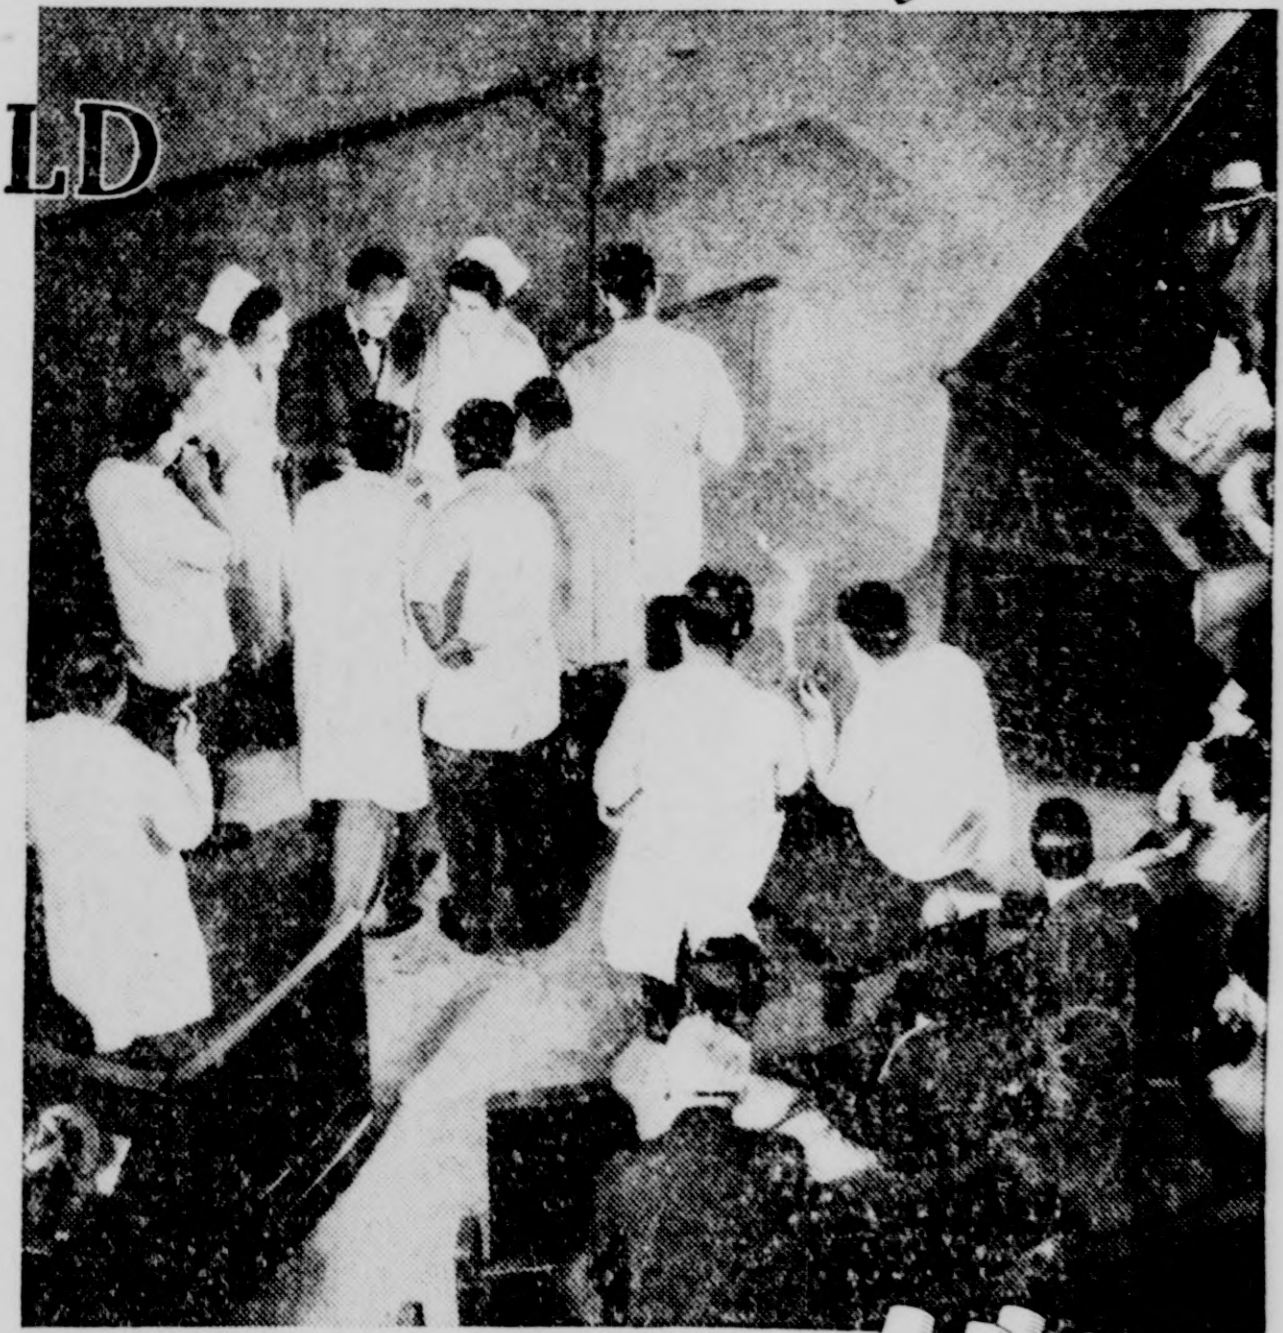

"Believe it or not . . . these registered physicians, without knowing what brand they were choosing, picked OLD GOLD by the decisive ratio of 2 to 1.

"I'm getting used to amazing victories for OLD GOLD. . . but I'll admit this one would be hard to believe if I hadn't personally counted the votes. A Certified Public Accountant also audited the score."

BELIEVE IT OR NOT . . . here's the Final Score!

"I certify that an audit of the complete and final results of the Ripley taste-test conducted with Throat Specialists gave OLD GOLD 50%, Brand X 25%; Brand Y 0% and Brand Z 25%." Signed, J. S. M. Goodloe, Certified Public Accountant. Left—Ripley Checking Score.

DOCTORS MAKE TASTE-TEST! Here's the latest Ripley Cigarette test in action—New York Throat Specialists voted OLD GOLD best.

NOT A COUGH IN A CARLOAD!

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Although the feat received only casual mention the fact remains that when Kominic of Franklin picked up a Washington punt and kicked it for a touchdown more than 100 yards for a touchdown he accomplished something which would have caused his name to be emblazoned throughout the country had he been participating in a college football game.

Had the ball been punted behind the line and been caught by Kominic with a run similar to that he staged Monday his name would have been more lasting. While there are numerous games there are not so many runs for the length of the entire field. However, there have been players who have caught punts which have resulted in long runs.

Boydton of Williams playing against Hamilton in 1920 raced 110 yards from a punt catch to a touchdown. Gray of Oberlin, playing against Cornell in 1908 raced 109 yards to a touchdown, and in 1902, Sherman of California, stacking up against Stanford caught a punt and ran 105 yards for a touchdown.

The knockout of Johnny Datto, the Cleveland Filipino at Philadelphia was so heartening to Eddie Shea that he waved his gloves hysterically at the audience and reports of the occurrence brought forth memories of Datto in action against U. S. Carpenter and Jack McFarland at the Jolly Bowl.

Carpenter thought he had a good chance to outbox Datto who has never been noted for anything else but a good slugger. Carpenter proved easy for Johnny and later McFarland, a rugged, game boy took up the task at which Carpenter failed. It was one of the outstanding fights, insofar as courage goes, that occurred here.

If recollection serves correctly, the Filipino and McFarland pranced for their corners like two pit fighters, and before the round was three fourths fought McFarland was on the floor for a nine count. Everybody expected Datto to flatten him when he arose but only Datto knew different. The right to the jaw had put his right hand out of commission.

While Datto forced the fighting for the next few rounds he did not shoot his right and in the seventh McFarland slugged with Datto and had him bleeding from the nose. The Filipino lost the round but when they came out in the eighth round he let his injured right hand fly. It hit McFarland on the chin and the fight was over.

Not so long afterward Datto left Jimmy Dunn to join another managerial firm and he boxed Benny Bass and Lew Massey. He went along in fairly good style and made good showings. When he met Eddie Shea at Philadelphia he fought a seasoned veteran but a knockout was not looked for but things like that happen at the unexpected moment in the fight game.

It looks very much as though Coach Fredericks will chalk up another victory Friday and continue on toward their goal, the 1930 Class B. football championship and permanent possession of a trophy on which Bessemer won a leg last season. Shenango has a small team and it is not very likely the Shenangoes will be able to stop the Fredericks machine.

Fredericks' aggregation started with a victory over Lowellville. Fredericks anticipated a hard struggle but Bessemer came through easily. Next Wilmington proved easy for the Limestone and Fredericks then held his aggregation to Scienceville for a test as Scienceville had beaten Union Township. Bessemer won the game 25 to 12.

Not so many days ago this columnist wrote that Emmett Rocco stood in a fair position to become Pittsburgh's best drawing heavyweight and judging from his defeat of Tom Heehey, the truth of the statement is borne out as he has been matched to fight George Panka. Emmett hopes to win from Panka who lost to Heehey.

When Rocco fought Heehey he met an Australian who has fought many of the leaders and who mingled with Gene Tunney. Tom battered Emmett's midriff and had him weak in the first part of the fight. Rocco exhibited all sorts of courage and came out of the bar rounds to start at his pace in the sixth and he gave Heehey a shelling in the closing chapters.

There have been brothers in the boxing game and some families had as many as three. However, the Chip family here, it is believed holds the record of five four of whom boxed professionally and strange to say true, the one who did not appear as a pro boxed Young Strubling here when Young Strubling was a stripling, likewise his opponent.

The Chips who fought were George, former middleweight champion; Joe, who boxed Johnny Wilson when the latter held the middleweight title; William who fought once in New Orleans and Paul who boxed in several bouts here. When "Eagle" had his bout it was with Young Strubling when his parents and he showed here at the old Coliseum.

And now for some more brothers. There were two Jeffries, Jim and Jack. The latter milled only a few times and gave way to Jim who won the heavyweight title from Fitzsimmons. There were three Attels, Abe, Caesar and Monte. Caesar didn't linger long but Abe won the featherweight title. It is also recalled that Jimmy Dunn and Abe tangled at South Sharon.

Dunn had the revenge later on when his protegee Johnny Kilbane won the championship from Attel. Monte, the third member of the family, it is recalled fought Patsy Brannigan here which also recalls that Marty made the second member of the Brannigan family in the ring. In fact he was the first. Marty boxed Joe Getz before Patsy got going.

There were two Gibbons, Tom and Mike. Tom fought them all, like-wise Mike. Of the two, however, most students would give Mike the plan. He had everything. Tom was not nearly so clever as Mike. Nowadays there are the Perlick Twins, the Moresco brothers, Bushy Graham and his brother but seldom do two top liners come from the one family.

Bowling—where did it originate, is a question asked annually. From reading we have learned that it is supposed to have been handed down from the Stone Age, or the time when cave men flung huge boulders at an irregular row of pointed stones. The definite established place, according to bowling historians is Germany.

The word is derived, it is said, from the Latin word "Bulla," meaning globe and the French "Boule," meaning ball. From Germany bowling spread and ranks as the national sport in Holland. When the Dutch crossed to America some 300 years ago it is history that they brought bowling equipment.

At that time Gotham had plenty of space and the Dutch, it is said chose a section near Battery Park as their favorite spot and this became known as "Bowling Green." The first bowling indoors started in 1840. The floor of the alley was of baked clay, then of slate blocks and later, wood was substituted and in 1890 the game was standardized at 10 pins.

All-American Coaches

No. 6—Bo McMillin

By JACK SORDS
Central Press Sports Cartoonist-Writer.

It was just after the war and football was staging a comeback after two years of subdued college activity in which few games were played by teams other than service eleven and S. A. T. C. (Students Army Training Corps) outfits, when "Bo" McMillin and Centre college became national sensations.

Little Centre college, down in Danville, Ky., had developed a star eleven which swept all opposition aside. It trounced the mighty and the meek. It crushed Harvard and defeated other schools with great gridiron reputations.

Centre was coached by Moran, a National league umpire. But it was led in its great battles by McMillin, a splendid little quarterback from Texas, with the fire and brains of a fine leader.

After McMillin came other Centre stars who won All-American mention, but even today the name of Centre is always linked with that of McMillin.

Today McMillin is coaching Kansas State Agricultural school at Manhattan, Kas. He is now a seasoned mentor, having had previous coaching experience at Centenary and Geneva.

Hanlon Maps Out Saturday Route

Motor Club Head Gives Best
Auto Route To Washington, Pa.

Because of the number of motorists who will drive to Washington Pa., Saturday for the football game between New Castle and Washington high schools, B. N. Hanlon, secretary of the New Castle Motor club, has prepared a routing from New Castle to Washington which represents the better way to get down and back.

There are several ways of going to Washington, of course, most of which are by way of Pittsburgh. Traffic in Pittsburgh will be heavy on Saturday and Saturday evening due to the Pitt-Notre Dame game and the route which is marked out by Mr. Hanlon does not touch Pittsburgh at all.

From New Castle to Rochester one can go either by way of Wampum and Beaver Falls or by way of Ellwood City and New Brighton. On the latter route, turn left on Fifth avenue in New Brighton, one mile right one-tenth of a mile and left on Third avenue.

Crossing the Ohio river at Rochester one comes into Monaca, but instead of turning left at the main corner of the town to go through Allegheny, turn right and go through the Broadhead Pike. This route takes you through New Sheffield to Carnot.

At Carnot follow the Beaver grade road to the junction of the Steubenville Pike (U. S. 22 and 30) to Moon Run and through to the junction of Baldwin road. Here turn right and follow Baldwin road to Campbell road and then left on the Campbell road to Carnegie. From Carnegie it is a straight shot into Washington.

There is still a shorter and less trafficked road but which has about 12 miles of dirt on it, located in different spots. This is route 12. This road runs from New Castle through Beaver Falls and Rochester to Monaca. At the beginning of the Broadhead Pike, route 19, branches off from the pike and goes through Harshville and Burcetstown. There is a three-mile detour between Westland and Gettysburg.

DEMONSTRATE

its superiority
by This Test

LET your face be the judge of the superiority of the new Gem Micromatic Razor. Shave one side with your present razor. Shave the other side with the new Gem Micromatic Razor and Blade. If one week's comparison doesn't make you an enthusiastic booster for the Gem Micromatic, we'll refund your money.

A Revolution in Razors

Understand, this is not just a new model of an old razor. The Gem Micromatic is a brand new idea—a micromatic precision instrument—different and better than any other razor.

You twist the handle and an invisible control closes the razor. Automatically the blade moves into the correct shaving position and is locked there. No vibration!... Even the shaving angle is new. You rest the razor-head flat against your cheek and you're set for action. No guess-work or experimenting—it shaves perfectly... And think of this! The razor is all one piece—nothing to take apart—the easiest razor in the world to load, to clean, to use.

New Surgical Steel Blades

The new patented Gem Micromatic Blade, made of surgical steel, has a degree of keenness never before approached. The merest touch smooths your beard away completely. And each blade gives you many extra shaves. It is amazingly durable and holds its edge far longer than any other blade. This Gem Micromatic Blade fits all Gem Razors and makes them deliver vastly better shaves—but for best results, use the new blade in the new razor.

INSURANCE FOR UNEMPLOYED IS NOT PRACTICAL

National Association Of Insurance Agents Hear Discussions

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Oct. 22.—Unemployment insurance, advocated by many business and political leaders is not practical, Walter H. Benne, secretary-counsel of the National Association of Insurance Agents, told a meeting of 160 insurance salesmen here.

The agents, representing insurance firms from all sections of Pennsylvania, are here for their annual convention and were to elect officers late today.

"Unemployment insurance," Benne said, "can gain nothing unless it is compulsory."

"Then," he continued, "it can amount to little more than a dole system. Money would be taken from the pockets of those who continue to work to make up insurance payments for those who stop working, knowing a day's wage will go on."

Importance of the insurance business and need for a law requiring compulsory automobile insurance in Pennsylvania were discussed by delegates.

Governor Fisher Gets Recommendation For Extradition Of Suspected Slayer

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Oct. 22.—Deputy Attorney-General A. Lee Edwards today recommended to Governor John S. Fisher that he act favorably upon the request of New Jersey authorities for the extradition of Samuel Grossman, alleged murderer, from Philadelphia.

Grossman is charged with implication in the fatal shooting of John G. Finello, federal prohibition agent, in a raid on the rising sun brewery at Elizabeth, N. J.

Edwards' recommendation today followed a formal hearing late yesterday on the request for extradition. Grossman did not have a representative at the hearing to oppose the request for extradition.

Prizes are being offered by the Incorporated Association of Architects and Surveyors of Britain for designs of a model gasoline service station.

The cotton crop is fair, but the price is so low that many families haven't a pint of calomel in the house.

NEW YORK STOCKS

Market Is Flooded By Selling Orders

By W. S. COUSINS
International News Service Financial Editor

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—A flood of selling orders for the industrial stocks and utilities poured in over the market at the first tap of the opening gong today.

United States Steel, Westinghouse, Standard Oil of New Jersey, General Electric and other market leaders fell through to new low levels for the year, with losses extending from 2 to 4 points in heavy trading in the first half-hour. A score of the best-known Steel, Copper, Oil, Electrical manufacturing, Theatrical and specialty stocks were pressed for sale at the lowest prices in a year or more.

Am decrease of 2 per cent in Steel mill operations, a decline of 17,600 freight car loadings for the week and further cuts in crude and refined oil prices were the principal factors affecting prices in this period. Sweeping away of margin protection in speculative accounts, and opening up of stop-loss orders accentuated the downward price move. Westinghouse fell off to 101 for a new loss of 5 points and a decline of about 50 points on the present move. General Electric sold at 49 1/2, down 1 1/2. Standard Oil of New Jersey broke under 53 for the first time since last November and lost about 1 1/2 at 52 1/2. Hudson Motor at 19 1/2 was a leader in the downward move of the motors.

Liquidation dried up near the end of the first hour, and moderate rallies were scored by the market leaders. United States Steel climbed back to 144 1/2 and Westinghouse to 103 1/2. The rush to sell stocks was much less pronounced.

Though losses in the dividend Rails were comparatively small, a dozen or more of the active stocks in this group sold at or near the lowest levels of the last two or three years. Not much attention was devoted to the speculative Rails, few of which reached the tape.

Commodity markets were steady, with Cotton and Grain moving through narrow price ranges. Foreign government and domestic convertibles turned downward. Call money was in good supply at 2 per cent.

Local Woman In Unusual Accident

A peculiar and painful accident was sustained Tuesday afternoon by Mrs. William Kennedy, of North Beaver street when she fell in the rooms of a Barber Supply company at Youngstown, Ohio where she was attending a permanent wave demonstration.

Some fluid had been spilled on the floor and in walking over it Mrs. Kennedy's foot slipped throwing her to the floor. She was given medical attention in that city and later brought to her home here, where she is under the care of physicians. The extent of her injuries is not known, awaiting X-ray developments.

Local Musician In Cincinnati Concert

Peter Charles Sparano of 262 West Grant street, New Castle, who is a member of the Cincinnati Conservatory Symphony orchestra, played recently with that interesting group of 70 musicians when they gave the first concert of the season under the direction of Vladimir Bakaleinikoff at Concert Hall, Cincinnati. The program was broadcast over Radio Station WLW.

Species 12: The fellow who insists you cannot be anything without a large expenditure of money.

Species 13, or "the most deadly of all," as the speaker termed him, the fellow who speaks membership for a period of years without really becoming a part of it. He belongs because someone proposed his name. Neither he nor the community is any better off.

Antique Dealers Believed Linked In Swindle Plots

Wealthy Boston People Buy Fake Paintings For Fabulous Sums

(International News Service)

BOSTON, Oct. 22.—Belief that several greater Boston art and antique dealers were linked with the exposure of the huge swindling scheme in which wealthy Bostonians were induced to part with thousands of dollars in exchange for worthless canvases and spurious knockknacks, was expressed in official circles today when it became known that a wealthy Brookline resident had paid $28,000 for a supposedly genuine Rembrandt. He exposed the hoax to the police but declined to press charges in the belief that his money would be returned on this threat to bring the matter to court.

Edwin S. Websters, police said, was another victim of the "ring." He paid $32,500 for a painting, which, on inspection, turned out to be a copy. Webster received his money back and did not press the case.

Fears that the Boston Art Museum had been sold faked paintings were dispelled when two directors of the institution expressed their belief that all recent paintings were genuine.

One alleged member of the "ring," Mrs. Glenintina Briggs Doran, of Holyoke, was awaiting trial on charges of larceny of $51,126 from Clinton I. Nash, Boston collector. Two others, under indictment in the Nash complaint, were being sought by police.

Stock Prices In Germany Decline

Mortuaries Denial From United States Causes Stocks To Take Drop

(International News Service)

BERLIN, Oct. 22.—Denial from Washington that the United States government was considering a moratorium on foreign war debts caused a decidedly unfavorable reaction on the Berlin stock exchange today.

Prices, which had been boosted by the parliamentary victories of chancellor Heinrich Brüning, fell off all along the line, dropping in some cases as much as 16 points.

While the German government had not committed itself on the moratorium question, it was understood that it was watching with tremendous interest the effect of press dispatches in Washington and London concerning plans for a moratorium on war debts and German reparations.

It was learned unofficially hopes had been held out that Washington might declare itself favorable to moratoriums at the present time owing to the world industrial depression.

Penalty Helps Clear Out C. O. D. Parcels

Demurrage resulting from the newly inaugurated over-15 days penalty on collect-on-delivery articles at the New Castle post office has not been charged against any patron so far. The new ruling went into effect October 1.

A notable decrease in C. O. D. matter left at the office for any period of time has come about since the penalty provision was placed in force, clerks said.

Plans Are Progressing For Mummer's Parade And Celebration, Halloween

Parade to be held Friday evening, October 31, in the downtown section of the city for the mummies and Halloween celebrators, will be on the same large scale as in former years and a committee consisting of Thomas Blake Chairman, Bernard N. Hanlon and William G. Fleming is in active charge of the parade activities, it was announced today by Ivor Davis, general chairman of the celebration committee.

The members of this committee are experienced in Halloween parades and the fact that they are actively engaged in planning this event, assures its success in every way. They promise that the parade will be bigger and better than for many years, weather conditions permitting.

At least three divisions are planned at the present time.

In order to assure the finances needed for the celebration, General Chairman Davis has announced the personnel of the finance committee. The members of the committee are Dr. H. H. Rosenthal, W. W. Williams, and Phil G. Greer.

Another essential committee announced today is the prize committee consisting of Lewis J. Lewis, chairman, Frank Summers, E. E. Tinsman, Harold Blewitt, Mrs. S. H. Rhoads, Mrs. Gladys Rosenthal and F. W. Hill.

Musie will play an important part in the parade and a very active committee has also been announced to secure the needed bands for the affair. The members of the committee are John D. Kennedy, chairman, L. C. Gleason, Joseph Repogle, Thomas J. Cunningham, John Patton and W. A. Hoffmaster. There is every indication that there will be an abundance of music.

Controversy Over Two Lots Given For School House

In an opinion handed down by Judge Hildebrand in court this morning in the case of Florence I. Phillips against the School District of North Beaver township, an order made vacating an order during vacation period when some of the attorneys interested in the case were away.

The case is one in which the late Ephraim Phillips gave two lots in Willow Grove for the erection of a school house, with the provision that if the school house was abandoned then the land was revert to the estate. The school house was abandoned in 1924 and the heirs of Ephraim Phillips are now seeking title to the land. The court's opinion leaves the case in its original form before the order during vacation period was made.

OVERSEAS SERVICE LEAGUE TO MEET

A meeting of the Lawrence County Unit, Women's Overseas Service League will be held Thursday evening at 8:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. R. R. Kegarise on Euclid avenue. The meeting is for the purpose of making plans for Armistice Day.

Red Arrow Quartet On Armistice Day Program Held Here

Will Be Sent Here By The Pennsylvania Railroad For Big Celebration

Through the courtesy of the Pennsylvania Railroad system, the Red Arrow quartet, one of the premier broadcasting male quartets of the United States, will have a leading part in the celebration to be held here Armistice Day under the auspices of the World War service men of Lawrence, Butler and Mercer counties.

In order that this famous quartet may get here to participate in the evening program at the cathedral, engagements have been broken in the middle west and the quartet will be brought here from Milwaukee for the sole purpose of helping make the Armistice Day celebration here the success that is now assured.

Many people of the city have been privileged to hear these wonderful singers over their radio, but on this occasion, the thousands of people who will crowd the cathedral on the evening of Tuesday, November 11 will be permitted for the first time to see these famous artists in person.

And this is but one of the many big treats in store for the people of the city on the day that the World War veterans celebrate the close of the greatest war in the history of the world.

NURSES CHARITY BALL IN NOVEMBER

Plans for a Charity ball to be held on November 18 at the cathedral were made at the meeting of the New Castle hospital nurses held at the New Castle hospital on Tuesday night.

The affair will be the second held by the nurses and will be for the benefit of the New Castle hospital nurses' home Miss Anna Moffley was selected as head of this event.

The court held for the hay and feed dealer.

The judges reasoned thus: The substance of the agreement was that the hay should be paid for on delivery. When Jenkins held back one month he substantially broke the agreement. The dealer was, therefore, not obliged to continue with the contract. The contract already had been broken.

Frank M. Wilmot Called By Death

Secretary And Manager Of Carnegie Hero Fund
Commission Dies
Suddenly

WAS CLOSE FRIEND TO ANDY CARNEGIE

(International News Service).
PITTSBURGH, Oct. 22.—Frank
M. Wilmot, 58, secretary and manager of the Carnegie hero fund commission, died suddenly today from a heart attack in his home, Park Mansions.

Wilmot was a close personal friend of Andrew Carnegie and was connected with the hero fund commission since its inception. He was one of those remembered in the will of the steel manufacturer and philanthropist when he died.

He came to Pittsburgh 30 years ago. He was educated in Lambert-ville, N. J., his birthplace. Wilmot was a member of the Pennsylvania Railroad Volunteer Relief department before he took up his duties with the Carnegie commission.

He was an officer and director of the Art Society of Pittsburgh; Hungry Club, Oakmont Country Club, Pennsylvania Tuberculosis Society,
Pittsburgh center of the drama
League, Tuberculosis League of Pittsburgh, and the University Extension Society.

Wilmot also was a member of the Shadyside Presbyterian church.
He leaves his widow, Mrs. Maud
Gallagher Wilmot, his mother, Mrs.
W. H. Wilmot, of Lambertville, N.
J., three brothers, W. H. Wilmot, Jr., R. T. Wilmot of Casey, Ill., and Donovan Wilmot, of Cleveland, O., and one sister, Mrs. Vincent Bradley, of Trenton, N. J.

Funeral services will be held in his home Friday at 4 o'clock. Dr. Wil-ham J. Holland and the Rev. Dr.
Hugh T. Kerr, pastor of the Shadyside Presbyterian church, will preside. The body will be interred at Lambertville.

Special Service At Nazarene Church

Rev. Charles Whetsell of the Church of the Nazarene announces they will have a special service
Thursday evening at 7:30 when Dr.
H. F. Reynolds, senior general superintendent of the Church of the Nazarene and Dr. Floyd W. Neace, president of the Eastern Nazarene College, of Wallington, Mont., will be the speakers.

TWO ARE FINED FOR TAKING P. R. R. COAL

Brought before Alderman Walter
T. Hamilton for petty larceny on Pennsylvania railroad grounds, Elizabeth Hicks and Mattie Falland, colored, were assessed a fine and costs amounting to $9.50 each.
They were arrested for taking coal from the Mahoningtown yards of the company.

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations
Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

Like the last rose of summer, the last paving jobs of the year are blooming alone, or almost alone.
Just two of them are in progress in New Castle and one of these is so nearly finished that a few days will put it over. This is the Butler avenue job. The concrete is poured, or perhaps there may be a few feet at the top of the street. The trimming work is being done on the edges, and in a short time, you can get through on another whiz dinger of a paved street.

The job on North street has taken a little more time because of the depth of the sewers there. For a time it looked as though the sewer excavators were going down after oil. The dirt was piled high on the sides of the street, but this is about gone now and the concrete work is about ready to start. That means a good street to the North street bridge.

Out in the townships, the road from Harlansburg Road over to Plaingrove is nearing completion.
This will give the good people of Plaingrove a hard road connection with the outside world, something they have needed for a long time.

The finish of these roads means the finish of the biennial program for Lawrence County which started in June 1929 and was to run until June 1931. Finishing a job ahead of time isn't a bad idea however, and our roads are finished ahead of the time necessary.

The citizens who turned in the following idea is known to you, undoubtedly. A citizen who believes in his fellowmen, who is willing to help the other fellow out a bit, and has a heart as large as an old fashioned coal scuttle, figuratively speaking.

He was commenting upon the industrial depression that is sweeping the world at the present time with particular reference to the unemployment situation in the United States and in New Castle.

"There are a lot of home owners who have work to be done around their property," said he. "Brick walls that need building, drainage ditches that should be dug, yards that should be cleaned up, and a lot of other jobs. Most of them are waiting until next spring to get the work done, but getting it done now would be some small help in the present condition."

"Everybody who hires a man for a day or so, does that much to aid, and it is my belief that there is work enough to be done around the homes of the city to give a lot of men at least a week or two of work. Not much of course, but that much better than nothing."

Then came another idea which seems to fit in with President
Hoover's suggestions. "That $70-$80,000 the city received for the sale of the conduit needn't lie idle," said my friend. "Why not take a piece of it, say $25,000 and put it aside as a special employment fund. The streets will need cleaned of snow this winter, there is work that needs to be done out at the municipal golf course, and there is a lot of other work the city could do. The money couldn't be used to much better advantage."

There you are. Both of the suggestions are good ones, the one personal to the home owner, the other one within the jurisdiction of the city council entirely. They are passed on without color and without comment. If you think the one applying to home owners is a good one, take advantage of it.

ing the flypaper on your knees to attended and they had an especially lovely trip over the mountains by motor and were royally entertained while in Uniontown.

You see, if all stores were owned by a chain, there would be no suckers to pay Henderson a million for cussing chain stores.

Fraternities And Sororities Lead College Scholarship

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Oct. 22.
—Fraternity and sorority members at Westminster College maintained higher scholastic averages than non-members during the 1929-1930 college year. Dr. J. A. Swindler, registrar, announces.

Women students again did better work in classes than men, the sorority group leading by four points.
The sorority average for the year was 1.803 out of a possible 3.000, while the non-sorority rating was 1.592. The fraternity average for the year was 1.413 as compared with 1.227 for non-fraternity students.

Kappa Alpha Alpha sorority led the women's groups with an average of 2.008, thus winning the trophy cup awarded annually. Other sorority ratings were: Sigma Kappa, 2.003;
Chi Omega, 1.782; Alpha Gamma Delta, 1.766; Phi Delta Chi, 1.663;
and Pi Rho Phi, 1.568.

Epsilon Theta Pi fraternity led the men's groups with an average of 1.579. Other fraternity ratings were: Phi Pi Phi, 1.543; Kappa Phi Lambda, 1.518; Delta Phi Sigma,
1.303; and Theta Upsilon Omega,
1.207.

What with the drought and everything, the poor farmer hasn't much to show off with at the county fair except his automobile.

WHEN PAIN COMES...

Two hours after eating

WHAT many call "indigestion" is very often nothing but excess acid in the stomach.
The stomach nerves have been over-stimulated, and food sores. The corrective is an alkali, which neutralizes acids instantly.
The best alkali known to medical science is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained the standard anti-acid with physicians in the 50 years since its invention.

One spoonful of this harmless, tasteless alkali will neutralize instantly many times as much acid, and the symptoms disappear at once. You will never use crude methods when once you learn the efficiency of this more pleasant way. A small bottle is sufficient to show its merit.

Be sure to get genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for more than 50 years in correcting excess acid, 25c and 50c a bottle; any drugstore.
Complete directions for its many uses, are enclosed with every bottle.
